The general chairman of the Newton Christmas Seal Sale, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, urged that desk drawers and tables be searched for unpaid Christmas Health Seals.

Very often these sheets of seals are forgotten or get buried in a welter of Christmas wrapping paper and are out of sight until the owner thinks it too late to pay for them.

These seals were mailed to residents of our community in November by the following village chairmen, Newton, Mrs. H. William Kugler; Newtonville, Mrs. Harriet C. Bartlett; West Newton, Mrs. Ethel P. Leach; Auburndale, Mrs. Paul W. Kleser; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Harold Buse; Waban, Mrs. E. Payson Upham; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Hiram A. Miller; Newton Upper Falls, Miss Doris Brown; Newton Centre, Miss Grace L. Rogers; Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Roderick M. Brown.

One restaurant, Stell's Lunch of West Newton, did not apply for a renewal. About 60 establishments received renewals of non-liquor common victualler's license.

Ace War Newsman At Forum

Quentin Reynolds Saw "London Can Take It"

For the first meeting of 1942 the Newton Forum presents Quentin Reynolds, Ace war correspondent of Collier's Magazine, at the Newton High School Auditorium at 3:30 p. m. on Sunday, January 1.

Reynolds is widely known as one of the most brilliant reporters and lecturers to have come out of this war. Last year, after his return from England, he made an extensive lecture tour, including an appearance at Symphony Hall in Boston in March. He wrote the script and did the commentary for two stirring movie shorts, "London Can Take It" and "Christmas Under Fire." He is the author of the best seller, "The Wounded Don't Cry." Recently he was in the public eye when he was a fellow passenger with the Soviet Ambassador to the United States, Litvinov, on a Russian plane which, for several days, was believed lost on the flight from Moscow to Tcheran. From there he proceeded to Cairo where he has been covering the war news.

After graduation from Brown University, where he played football, Reynolds studied law, but he soon decided that journalism was his field. He worked on the Evening World and World Telegram as reporter and sports writer. In 1933 he was sent to Berlin by International News Service. As a result of his outspoken criticism of the Nazi regime then coming into power, he was one of the first foreign correspondents to be deported from Germany. Since 1934 he has been with Collier's as associate editor.

In 1940 he was sent to Europe on a writing commission. Reynolds always manages to be in the thick of things so that he has plenty to report, and he knows how to tell it. He drove an ambulance before the fall of France. He tricked the French into giving him a pass to the front lines by pretending to be "Quentin Roosevelt Reynolds," sending a cable to "Uncle Franklin, White House," ending with "Love to Aunt Eleanor." He retreated before the advancing German army in a baby Austin, a job that involved a neat job of telescoping his six foot, 220 lb. frame.

He has lived and worked for months under a rain of bombs in London and he was injured in an air raid last year. Much of his time in England has been spent at R. A. F. mess halls, among army men and civilian volunteers, on coastwise trawlers and in the pubs of Fleet st. His congenial, kindly personality has made him immensely popular in all these places, and he knows a first hand what the English people are feeling and thinking under the ordeal of constant bombings. He ords Churchill and Beaverbrook and Bevin, and he speaks with admiration of "my neighbor in London, who is mostly of the nameless 'little people' of England that he tells in his lectures and writings, and one is impressed by his love and respect for these people. He tells too of America's work in the war and of what a fine job our Lockhead Hudson and Boston bombers are doing. He is a deeply moving speaker. There are no gestures. (Continued on page 2)

Approve Funds For 10 Police

Aldermen To Enlarge Force for Defense Purposes

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen following the inaugural exercises at city hall, an appropriation of $3850 was made for the appointment of 10 additional policemen to the Newton police force and for the equipment of six of these men. Four of the new men are to be named from the reserve force and already are equipped. The appropriation was made upon recommendation of Mayor Goddard to the Newton police force for the civilian defense program. The appointments are of a temporary nature and cover the entrance salaries for a three-month period.

Due to the fact that the recent appointments to the Newton police reserve force have exhausted the list of eligibles, the State Civil Service Commission has authorized the appointment of the new men on a temporary basis until after the police examination is held in March. Members of the Newton police department are required to purchase their own uniforms but in view of the fact that six of the new men are appointed on a temporary basis it was not considered fair to expect them to provide their own equipment.

The Board also approved an appropriation of $500 for the appointment of a confidential executive secretary to the Mayor for a two months' period. The new appointment will be assigned to duties connected with the civilian defense program.

The reappointments of John W. Murphy as chairman of the Board of Assessors, of Fire Chief Clarence W. Randlett as forest warden and inspector of petroleum and that of Street Commissioner John D. Haughey as superintendent of gypsy mot control, by the mayor were tabled until the next meeting for confirmation as required by the city charter.

The usual order authorizing the city treasurer to borrow in anticipation of the 1942 tax levy was passed for an amount not exceeding $5,266,000.00.

"Happy New Year"

Former Atty. Gen. Allen Dies

Newton Highlands Man Had Active Career In State Legal Service

Former Attorney General J. Weston Allen of 219 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, died suddenly on Wednesday following a ten-day illness. He was born in Newton Highlands April 19, 1872, the son of Walter and Grace Mason (Weston) Allen. He was a descendant of Richard Warren and George Soule of the Mayflower. He was graduated from Yale University in 1893 at the age of 21 and three years later received his law degree from Harvard, beginning practice the same year.

In 1915 he entered politics, being elected to the Mass. House of Representatives from Newton. In 1920 he was elected for a two-year term as attorney general. Although serving only one term he remained in active connection with the state's legal affairs. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor but was defeated by former Governor Channing Cox.

As attorney general he had an active career including the exposure of Charles Ponzi and the removal of district attorneys Joseph C. Pelletier of Suffolk County and Charles A. Tutts of Middlesex County. He also exposed a silver stock swindle and obtained conviction of the operators for illegal advertising. He instituted an investigation of the "fish" trust and served in an advisory capacity to the attorney general during the Kemp of the chemistry department of the Arlington High School.

President Vincent C. Stanley will lead a discussion of vital factors affecting business under total war conditions. Annual reports of the treasurer, secretary, and nominating committee will be presented.

Men's Club To Have Ladies' Night

The annual ladies' night of the Men's Club of West Newton will be observed on January 8th in the Second Congregational Church parish house with a Seder dinner at 6:30. Henry Gerald, the well-known psychologist, will be the guest speaker. He studied at universities in Copenhagen, Berlin, Paris and Switzerland and has made a scientific study of mental telepathy, clairvoyance and magic. He will demonstrate psychology in action, hypnotism and mesmerism and will convey messages to members of the audience by mental telepathy.

Private funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

Seek Business Zone on Turnpike

A petition for a change of land in private residence zone to business zone has been filed at city hall by the Chestnut Hill Farm Association and other property owners on the Worcester Turnpike near John st., Newton Centre. The property described in the petition is on the north side of Boylston st. and bounded by the turnpike, John st. land of the Sun Oil Company and land now or formerly of John C. Bartholmes.

The claims and rules committee of the Board of Aldermen will conduct a public hearing on the petition and also on others that have been filed. In the past, repeated attempts to establish business zones on the Worcester Turnpike have been unsuccessful with the Aldermen pursuing a policy of disapproving changes of residential property along the highway.

Other petitions to come before the committee will be those of Charles E. Marvin for waiver of a setback line at 6 Dana rd. from 16 feet to 12 feet on land in a private residence district, and a recommendation of the Planning Board that property of Donati Frisoli at 1193 Chestnut st., Upper Falls, be changed from private residence to business status.

Chamber to Hear Talk on Bombs

The annual meeting and dinner of the Newton Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 12th, at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton. An address on "Bombs—Their Development and Use in Warfare" will be given by Gerard G. Kemp of the chemistry department of the Arlington High School.

President Vincent C. Stanley will lead a discussion of vital factors affecting business under total war conditions. Annual reports of the treasurer, secretary, and nominating committee will be presented.

Inaugural Address Stresses Difficulties Ahead and Briefly Reviews Past 2 Years

Defense Needs Reach The Thrift Center

Our telephone has been busy; our truck has been operating almost 12 hours a day trying to meet the defense demands occasioned by the air raid wardens insistence on clearing the Newton attics.

However, we will do the best we can, and as rapidly as possible to help you to remove such material as you may wish to contribute. Please bear with us from the standpoint of service since we cannot be as prompt and as efficient as we should like during these days of great pressure.

With many thanks for your cooperation during the past year and with best wishes for the New Year.

The Thrift Center.

City Officials Take Office

On New Year's afternoon at the inaugural of Mayor Paul M. Goddard for a second term he appealed to the members of the city government and the citizens of Newton for a contribution to the war effort as the primary concern of the moment. "Any contribution, however small, is insignificant" in comparison with that made by those who have given and must give their lives. Decreased income and increased expenses in 1942 and the coming years may make our financial problem more difficult and the Mayor intimated that he might recommend that the city borrow money for civilian defense expenditures. The question of increased salaries and wages of city employees he requested be made the object of a study by a special committee of the aldermen and school committee.

The inaugural exercises took place at three o'clock in the aldermanic chambers before an audience of more than a hundred. City Clerk Frank M. Grant called the meeting together and Alderman George E. Rawson was elected temporary presiding officer upon the nomination of Alderman Maxwell P. Gaddis. Chairman Rawson appointed Alderman Henry Ingham, John Barwise and Alderman George E. Rawson as the committee to wait upon Mayor-elect Goddard and inform him that the city government was prepared to receive him. Mayor Goddard, Judge Thomas Weston and Rev. Morrison R. Boynton of the First Church, Newton Centre, were escorted to the dais by the committee. Rev. Boynton offered the invocation after which the oath of office to Mayor Goddard was administered by Judge Weston. Mayor Goddard then addressed the Board of Aldermen and School Committee. Two new members took their places on the Board of Aldermen and three on the school committee. The new members of the Board are Kenneth D. McCutcheon of Ward 5 and former Alderman James P. Atkins of Ward 1. New school committee members are Fitzhugh Traylor of Ward 4, Mrs. Irene K. Thresher of Ward 5 and Thomas L. West of Ward 7. The mayor then addressed the board.

Police Begin Annual Listing

The annual listing of all persons more than 20 years of age living in Newton will be started Friday by ten members of the Newton police force working under the direction of the Board of Registrars of Voters. The policemen assigned to the work will report at city hall at 7:45 a. m. to receive instructions from Chairman John W. Murphy of the Board of Assessors.

Officers assigned to this task are Patrolmen James E. Halloran, John A. Bibbo, Albert Smith, George F. Henrikus, John E. Foley, Manley Kiley, Cornelius J. Dwyer, David Cummings, Christopher Bradley and Thomas B. Conannon.

The information which they are required to obtain of each person 20 years of age or over residing in each home includes the name, occupation, age, citizenship, nationality, residence on Jan. 1, 1941, and on January 1, 1942.

Men who have entered the military service and who desire to retain Newton as their legal or voting address should be reported. The police will also list the number of dogs in the city.

Legion To Aid Air Observers

A volunteer corps of members of the Newton Legion Post Drill team will assist the Waltham Legion in the handling of the work of air raid observers on a 24-hour duty period. The Newton legionnaires will take over the Prospect Hill observation station from midnight Friday to midnight on Saturdays in the coming weeks. Carl Peterson and Joseph Pendergast represented the Newton drill team at a meeting on Sunday at the Waltham Legion Home.

Newton Man Named To Tire Ration Board

Arthur O'Keefe of 111 Hammondswood rd., Chestnut Hill, and president of the First National Stores, was named last week by Governor Leverett Saltonstall to the seven-man commission to administer the Federal auto tire rationing program in Massachusetts which goes into effect on Monday.

At the conclusion of the address Alderman Charles B. Floyd was re-elected President of the Board for a sixth term. His name was placed in nomination by Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson. Mayor Goddard received President Floyd as he assumed the chair with the following greeting:

"In Newton we are fortunately able to secure the services of men whose capabilities far exceed the requirements of the offices they hold. If I had it within my power to confer an honorary degree upon Charles B. Floyd, it would be that of Distinguished Public Servant. We are all glad to have this man as our friend, and our City is the gainer because of his loyal devotion."

The Mayor then retired to the executive offices where he and Mrs. Goddard greeted those citizens present at a public reception.

Editorial . . .

The New Year

Once again we turn the pages to another year. It is a year fraught with uncertainty in the hearts and minds of every citizen. As we face the future it will be the continued endeavor of the Newton Graphic to maintain for its readers that form of community service which makes for good citizenship.

Newton is a community which has its rightful place in the state and nation. We are an integral part of America. As individuals we can only have one motive, one incentive, to make every effort count toward ultimate victory.

We embark upon the new year with the full realization that we are being called upon to make sacrifices such as we have never known before. We accept the rationing of materials that is beginning and will undoubtedly spread to cover many phases of our daily living, with a sincerity of purpose and a determination of an effort to contribute all we need to the end that liberty and freedom may survive.

May 1942 show us the way.

Inaugural

dent upon the nomination of the Newton Centre member by Alderman George Bacon of Auburndale, State Representative Clarence C. Colby was elected city treasurer and collector to succeed Francis Newhall who retires after more than 40 years of service. His name was placed in nomination by Alderman Carl F. Schipper, chairman of the Finance Committee.

At a meeting of the School committee immediately following the inaugural ceremonies Committee member Ralph F. Taber of Ward 3 was elected chairman, succeeding Harold F. Knowlton of Ward 4 who retired from service upon the committee.

In his inaugural address the Mayor spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

"We stand today on the threshold of a New Year—a year which may prove to be one of the most momentous of all times and a turning point in the history of mankind. We are assembled here with a renewed faith in the United States of America, proud to be servants of this Republic, and ready and willing to meet any demands that the future may hold for us. I confidently believe that we are witnessing the rebirth of our Nation, and that our citizens are eager to assume the responsibilities of the emergency. This is a means concentrated and sustained effort from all of us, increased efficiency, particularly in governmental procedures, and an everlasting determination to do each day's work. The ease and material comforts of the past are to be translated into the sacrifices of the future. Citizens will have to sacrifice, and certainly many of those in the armed services of the Nation will have to give their lives. Newton boys have already died for their country, and our thoughts go out to them in grateful appreciation, and with full realization of how insignificant are the sacrifices most of us are called upon to make.

"My message to you today will be short. On January 1st, 1942, I made no list of recommendations with reference to the conduct of our City Government for the ensuing two years. I acted upon the assumption that such recommendations could be more intelligently made after I had had the opportunity to observe at first-hand the actual administrative machinery of our City Government and properly appraise its effectiveness. I stated that recommendations would be made and executed after consultation with the Board of Aldermen, heads of departments, individual employees, and citizens of the city. This has been done. As Mayor I shall always expect to be held strictly accountable at the bar of public opinion, based upon the actual results of my administration, and I know that all members of the City Government expect to be appraised accordingly.

Two Years' Progress

"I quote directly from my message to you of two years ago: 'I hope and pray that during this coming administration we may have a sound progress which will be because of the contribution of our entire citizenship to the needs of this community. Government does not exist for the benefit of the individual citizen as such, and the individual has no moral or legal right to expect anything from his government which is to accrue to his benefit alone, and not for the benefit of all. Government owes nothing to the individual except as a member of the body politic, but rather the individual owes something to his government which can redound to the benefit of all.'

"During the last two years we have made sound progress in our city by the co-operation of the City Government with those who work for the city and with our citizens. A Mayor's Council has been established by representatives of the city and with our citizens. The Two-Platform System in the Fire Department was the result of a direct vote by the people. A day off in six was instituted tuted for the Police Department.

A new zoning law was passed and an increased salary schedule effected at City Hall. Our bonded indebtedness and tax rate were both reduced in 1940 and again in 1941, together with total administrative costs. The city stood first in its class in 1940 for Accident Prevention and has been leading during this last year with the final standing in 1941 not yet available.

A Welfare Board was organized which will certainly be called upon to do its part in the reconstruction period. Newton has again been cited for its Public Health record. Civilian Defense has been made a department of the city and a Board appointed. The work of Newton citizens in this respect, through the Committee on Public Safety, has been outstanding and is known throughout the country. It is impossible in the time here available to give a comprehensive review of the last two years, and so I officially close the record and turn to the future.

Looking to the Future

"A definite responsibility now rests upon all citizens as never before in our history, but even in this period of National Emergency the greatest responsibility probably still falls upon our duly elected and appointed officials. There must be no failure on our part. Democracy, the world over, is in a fight for its life, and any contribution any of us can make, no matter how small, to the supreme ideal of Christian democracy should be our primary concern at the moment. We are at war to prove the superiority of our system, that of a Christian democracy, to meet the needs of our citizens. We have just observed the 150th Anniversary of the adoption of our Bill of Rights, and we have again pledged allegiance to our country, thankful for the fundamental rights which are ours and which should be the fundamental rights of all people. We believe that the individual has value as an individual and not just as a part of the state. The Declaration of the Rights of Man has been revoked in some nations, and fundamental liberties and privileges have been trampled upon in others. We face a new era, not to the extent of that of our defenders abroad, but nevertheless one which will take its toll as time goes on. We must marshal all our resources to first of all perform our regular everyday tasks and duties, and then to add to these as necessity requires. Remember that our leadership must follow uncharted courses and that the judgment of any of us may at times be wrong, but that should not deter our action for a single instant. We will be right more times than we are wrong and above all we are going straight ahead through to the end. The problems of 1941 will be intensified in 1942, and new ones will arise.

Borrow for Defense

"Again I shall make no list of recommendations at this time with reference to the conduct of our City Government for the next two years. It is impossible to do this, for the circumstances and factors bearing upon decisions which will have to be made are constantly changing. This has been particularly true during the last few short weeks since war was declared. The demands upon our municipalities as a result of the National Emergency are increasing progressively from week to week, and this is bound to continue until the war is over. Municipalities will be called upon to aid the State and Nation in the war effort. The problem of the interrelation of our Federal, State and local governments is becoming increasingly difficult and must receive the serious consideration of all elected officials.

"Legitimate and necessary demands have already increased and will continue to increase the cost of government. Total administrative costs of the city were materially reduced in 1940. At the end of last November the total administrative costs of eleven months were actually below those of the same period in 1940 in spite of the inevitably increased expenditures in some departments. In addition, expenditures were made in 1941 in anticipation of rising prices. In looking forward to 1942 it is quite possible that a decreased income and necessarily increased expenses will make our financial problem much more difficult during the coming year and the years to follow. Under emergency legislation by the General Court a city may borrow for purposes of civilian defense. It is possible that I may recommend such borrowing to the limited extent during the next few months. If such recommendation is made, it will be only because we are continuing to pay off loans each year faster than we are borrowing. In two years we have reduced our indebtedness by approximately $700,000, and even if more money is borrowed in 1942 for defense purposes and for our enlarged program of road improvements, the total debt reduction for the three-year period including 1942 should be over $1,000,000.

Study Wage Increases

"Petitions have been presented by various City Departments for additional compensation to meet the increased cost of living. I recommend that a sub-committee of the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen be appointed to include a member of the School Committee, to confer with me as soon as convenient with reference to this question. Anything which I say now must not be construed in any way with reference to what the attitude of the City Government may be on this question. I have perfect confidence, however, in spite of whatever action may or may not be taken that this city can look forward to the same faithful, loyal, and conscientious service which it has had during the last two years.

"During the past few months I have seen fit to emphasize and comment upon the growing spirit of cooperation which is evident in our City. There seems to be an increasing realization that all of our community activities are focused toward one and the same end, namely the combined safety, security, and protection of all our citizens. We should all contribute to that end both with our individual strict field of our governmental functions. How necessary are all our various enterprises to the well being of the entire community: our hospital, the Red Cross, Civilian Defense, the United War Chest, etc. The members of our City Government and all our citizens throughout Newton for the co-operation and helpfulness which has been evident at every hand. I want to thank particularly all members of the Board of Aldermen, the members of our School Committee, and members of our various Boards for their competent and faithful service during the past two years—and so to all I say 'thumbs up' and a Happy New Year."

Annual Christmas Party Of Star Markets

The combined telephone departments of the four Star Markets held their annual Christmas party last week at Pythian Hall, Church st., Watertown. A large gathering of eight employees including members of the service and sales departments sat down to a big turkey dinner complete with all the trimmings. Invited guests included Mr. Stephen P. Mugar, president of the company, and Mr. William Stammers, seafood buyer, who played the dominant role of Santa Claus for the assembly.

Gifts were exchanged, songs sung, and the party high-lighted by the distribution of a year-end bonus by Mr. Mugar. The bonus for this year totaled $5000 and was distributed to part-time as well as regular employees.

Mr. Mugar also announced that the special employee benefits instituted during 1941 would be continued during the coming year. Meeting with outstanding approval was the new life, accident and health insurance plan which covers not only the employee but his wife and dependents as well.

Newton Families

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Howe with Patricia, Robin and Woodson live at 37 Gay St., Newtonville. Mr. Howe is justly proud of the fact that he is a direct descendant of the Howe Family who owned The Wayside Inn when it was known as Howe's Tavern, and the Howe coat of arms which may be seen at the Inn hangs also at 37 Gay St.

Patricia, who is called Pat, goes to Newton High School. Her main interest being dramatic arts, she will after graduation from there attend Leland Powers. Her younger sister, Robin, at fourteen goes to the Frank A. Day Junior High School and has chosen nursing as her profession. At six and one-half Woodson, popularly known as Brother, goes to the Clafin Grammar School. He is probably one of the best "collectors" in his class.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting was held at the Brae Burn Golf Club on Monday at 12:15 with Pres. Charles Depew at the head of the table. Laurence Fredericks with Louis Haffner at the piano.

The meeting was the annual Christmas party when the club entertained the children of members or some of the youngsters in their neighborhood.

As usual it was a grand success with nearly 50 children present. In addition to a nice luncheon there was a fine entertainment by "Lafollette and His Cavalcade of Wonders."

On Friday afternoon, one of our members, Joseph W. Limrich, will visit the New England Peabody Home and entertain the children with five reels of pictures.

At the meeting next Monday the Club will be hosts to the various manufacturers of the city with the members of the club with McGill, as the speaker.

Award Prizes For Decorated Doorways

Wishing to help spread the spirit of Christmas in the dark days of 1941, the Newton Highlands Garden Club offered prizes for the three doorways most attractively decorated for the season. The local paper announced the offer, the prizes were shown in one of the store windows and interest in the project gradually spread. At first householders were wary. What were the obligations to be met by exhibitors. Then modesty began to hold some back. "I couldn't do anything worth looking at," was the frequent rejoinder to the approaching committee. But when Christmas Eve came and the lights began to appear, doorways in all parts of the Highlands took on a festive air. There were Victory V's in ribbon on evergreen wreaths, mysterious and fascinating packages tied to knockers, here a large candy cane adorned a door or a stocking hung suggestively from a door knob. There living Christmas trees gaily flaunted their lights and boughs, here doorways and candles shone from many windows.

The judges made several trips about to get both daylight and evening effects. Balance, proportion, unity and, most of all, originality and the personal touch were carefully considered. The first prize was awarded to Mr. John A. McLaughlin of Carver rd. White pillars wound with laurel framed a door with soft pine branches on each side and a hand-made wreath (hand-made) decorated with tinted cones and a string of red bells, in the center. Over the door, pine veiled the light. The second prize went to Miss Gertrude Sprague of Alexander rd. Here too pine was used, over the side lights and above the door, in graceful festoons. A flood light, hidden in a shrub near by, brought out a beautiful evergreen star on the door. Mrs. Frank Ring of Centre st. took third place with a patriotic arrangement of red, white and blue lights combined with pine and a wreath lighted by a huge candle in front of the house.

The committee in charge were Mrs. E. F. Haberstroh of Saxon rd., Mrs. Richard H. Farrell of Stony Brae rd., and Miss Adeline F. Graham of Columbia st.

dramatics, or hysteria. He tells what he has to tell in a low resonant voice with a quiet dignity which is tremendously stirring. Last winter he held audiences spellbound in a personal appearance at the Strand Theatre, one of Broadway's large movie theatres. The stage shows here are mostly of the noisy swing band variety, but Reynolds held every listener as he told of the R. A. F. bomber pilot who did not recognize the sound of a falling bomb, and of the spiffy pilot who was killed on his twenty-first birthday, attempting to get his twenty-first Messerschmidt.

Reynolds will address the Forum on the subject, "I Saw Them Take It." This will be almost his first lecture after his return to this country, so it is a fine chance for local citizens to hear the very latest war news from a first-class reporter and lecturer.

Newton Women to Attend Annual Fund Luncheon

A large group of Newton women will attend the annual "dutch treat" luncheon of the Educational Division of the Greater Boston United War Fund next Monday (January 5) at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston.

The luncheon will mark the opening of the two-weeks intensive period of educational division activities, preliminary to the actual campaign. Because of the emergency conditions existing this year, the War Fund campaign to raise $7,600,000 will be conducted jointly by the American Red Cross, the Greater Boston Community Fund, the local Soldiers and Sailors Committee, and the United Service Organizations.

Chairmen of committees in the Newton area include Mrs. George H. Larsen, area chairman; Mrs. L. A. Bruce of Auburndale, chair-

NOTE OF THANKS

The Officers and men of Battery E, 208th Coast Artillery (AA) wish to express their thanks to the people of Newton and Wintertown for their thoughtfulness and kindness during the Christmas season, and they all join in wishing their many friends a Happy Christmas and a Joyous New Year.

agencies and individuals and it keeps in touch with programs of different camps. Last summer thirty-five children were sent to camp through its cooperative effort. Camp placement is part of a year-round plan for a youngster. Many of them are sent to the Y. M. C. A. camp and through this have other group contacts throughout the winter.

John was a different boy when he came back from camp this Fall. He was an only child, and had a hard time getting along at home and at school. His father had been a heavy drinker and John's nervousness was a reaction to this. His mother was seriously ill and so John had more than his share of problems. But camp gave him what he needed. During his stay in camp, the social worker saw the parents regularly, planning with them ways to make the home situation better for the boy when he came back.

David, age ten, an orphan, was confused because he did not feel he belonged to anyone. He was worried about stories of his heritage. He failed in his school work and was shy with other boys, keeping by himself.

The social worker at the Family Service Bureau grew to know David and helped him to feel confidence in her concern for him. He slowly pulled in other agencies to help him, such as a clinic where a psychiatrist helped him to understand himself. He joined the Boy Scouts, where he could have normal contacts with young people.

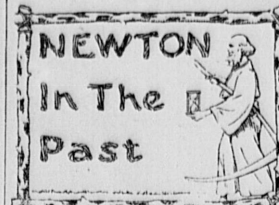

The worker saw his foster parents frequently, helping them to understand David. She worked closely with the school and the end of the year found him improved in his school work, enjoying recreation with boys his own age, feeling as if he were wanted and "belonged."

Here is an example of how the Family Service Bureau studied the boy's needs, opened up resources for him and called in other social agencies to bring to him the security which he lacked.

The Family Service Bureau stands ready to take its part in defense work. During the past year it has acted in consultation with one of the Draft Boards and two of its staff are on the Disaster Committee of the Red Cross. Through its membership in the Family Welfare Association of America, it keeps constantly in touch with services which social workers will offer to fit into Newton's Defense Program.

This agency is a member of the Newton Community Chest and will participate in the Greater Boston United War Fund to raise $7,600,000.

The sixty members of the Family Service Board work closely with the staff. They take an interest in individuals and through their contacts are often able to help. For example when Mr. G. asked advice as to how to invest in small food shop, Board members were consulted as to the locality, what equipment was necessary immediately and what could wait until his business developed. The social worker planned with Mr. G. individually. The Board members gave business advice that was valuable to his plan. Mr. G. is now on his own and is ready to take his part in the life of his country. He thanks the Community Fund which supports the agency which helped him and others to get back on their feet. The Board members are contributing members of the community.

The Newton Post Office sent out 22 big sacks of Christmas mail matter last week, besides the usual nine mail bags daily.

Mrs. Dr. H. M. Field will be very glad to see her gentlemen friends on New Year's Day, from 5:00 o'clock p. m. until midnight.

It is generally acknowledged that the fox terrier is the most popular and the most fashionable dog at the present time. Three puppies are advertised in this week's GRAPHIC that are of the best imported and native prize winning stock.

The residents of Emerson st. had a Christmas present from the city of a lot of loose gravel, which was thrown upon the sidewalk this week. They hope that it means a concrete sidewalk in the spring, now that the street has been accepted by the city.

The one-hundred ride tickets over the Newton Circuit road are very "nifty" with their white leather covers and high art lettering. They only lack a ragged edge to be in accord with the latest fashion in stationery.

School teachers can avail themselves of this week of quiet and enjoy something that may savor of recreation; but the superintendent's report has to be out just the same.

Mr. E. L. Packard lost a valuable cow this week, from some mysterious disease.

The Lasell Seminary looks quite deserted this week. The alligator in his tank is lonesome; the great bell resounds occasionally, with echoes reaching far and wide through the corridors and calling only a few young women together, who are doubtless glad that the vacation is short.

One of the odd gifts of Santa Claus was an immense "popped-corn ball," measuring three feet in circumference. It was afterwards served as the concluding course of the family dinner table, and found to be very palatable.

Crystal Lake has been in good skating order for the vacation, though the light snow falls have damaged it somewhat. Crowds have enjoyed the sport, ladies, gentlemen, college and theological students, girls and boys, and little children making their first break-neck ventures in acquiring the poetry of motion on the gay skates brought by Kris Kringle.

Officer Purcell was the happy recipient on Christmas day of a handsome and comfortable chair, a meeschaum pipe and a cigar holder, from the citizens of this village (Upper Falls), who think that his efficient services should be honored in some way, and that on this day is the best time to do it. The officer is very popular in this village, and he attends to his duties faithfully.

Thirty men, eight horses, two derricks, and a stationary engine, which is well housed, are at work on the foundations of the new Baptist Church in Newton. The tree, the lowest stones are 17 feet below the surface; the distances between the cellar floor and the main floor will be 10 feet six inches. About one third of the cellar wall is done; the foundations are far below the frost line.

The new catalogues of the Free Library are expected next week. The price to be charged has not been fixed.

The last day of the old year marked the retirement of Miss S. M. Duncklee from the position she has so long held at the head of the Newton Savings Bank. The trustees showed in some measure their appreciation of the value of her services, by presenting her at the close of business with a purse of $500 and even this liberal gift represented but a very small interest on the work Miss Duncklee has done in the bank.

There are all sorts of rumors about the extension of free postal delivery in Newton, but there is little probability of more than one main office in the city, even if the extension is granted. There are many cities much larger than Newton, which have free delivery from one central office. Of course each village would like to have the central office, and Newtonville, with its extraordinary modesty, is already talking of a government post office building, from which all the rest of the city shall be served, but Newton would hardly yield to that without a struggle. Having a population nearly double that of any other section of the city, and being toward the center of business, the central station would naturally be located here.

The Common Council finally concurred with the Board of Aldermen Monday night, in voting $100 toward the purchase of a field piece for the High School battalion. Now in case of war with Chile, Newton will be prepared for defense.

The Newton High School has entered the inter-schoolistic polo league which will be made up of eight schools, including E. H. (Continued on page 5)

FOR DEFENSE AGAINST BURNS

For the defense of ourselves and our homes, in addition to the pails of sand, shovels, hose connections, shields and a wrench attached to the gas valve, every family should have a proper preparation for the prompt first aid treatment of burns.

Modern therapy is against the use of salves, ointments, fats or greases for first aid for burns, and neither should antiseptics be applied (see Life magazine, Sept. 29, 1941, Reader's Digest, Nov. 1941, or ask your doctor or your local defense committee).

Our SPRAY-ON is a new solution that relieves the pain almost the instant it is applied. It does not stain the flesh or fabrics. It may be sprayed on with an atomizer, or poured directly on a bandage. Our formula has received the approval of many physicians. It is used in many large defense plants and by countless smaller business concerns, all of which are buying it so fast that we are almost unable to keep up with our orders.

We urge you to get a bottle of SPRAY-ON from your druggist immediately. If he does not have it, tell him to get it from his wholesaler, or we will send it to you post-paid upon receipt of 50 cents.

We pledge ourselves to this cause

A Statement by

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company

We make this pledge publicly to our national government and to the people of the United States:

That we will cooperate unhesitatingly in every effort of authorized government agencies to prevent unwarranted rises in prices of foods.

That we will continue our efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid to the grower and prices charged to the consumers.

That to this end we will continue to do everything in our power to assist the farmers and growers of America in the orderly marketing of their products at the fairest possible prices to them.

That we will make every effort to hold our inventories at the lowest point consistent with good service to our customers because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers, or consumers, will cause higher prices.

That we will endeavor to continue to pay our employees the highest wages and to give them the best working conditions in the grocery business generally.

That we will make every effort to continue to sell food at retail at the lowest gross margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business.

Today we are providing food for our customers at the lowest gross profit rate in the history of the retail grocery business. This means that we have achieved efficiencies in the distribution of food never before attained. More of your food dollar goes for food and less for overhead expenses than ever before. No other great retail business in the United States in any field is operated with such a low cost of distribution.

No one in the food business can control the wholesale price of food. Only the government of the United States has power to do this, and for the protection of our people this power in the government is now a necessary power.

Today, with the nation at war, we believe that no private interest has any rights in conflict with the general public interest.

The armed forces of the United States are today receiving more and better food than ever before in our national history. It is equally important that all of our people working and living behind the lines, men, women and children, shall be better fed and better nourished than ever before in our national history.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 29, 1916

Newton hid-women received last Friday by the Public Buildings Commissioner for the construction of the proposed new fire station on Beacon st. in the Lower Falls. The figures were considerably higher than expected, the lowest being the B. F. Smith Co., $26,360.

Auburndale residents are evidently looking forward to the far, far future in presenting to the local Congregational Church a proposed flag for the coming "world state." The flag was accepted in all the churches on Sunday and Monday, and a very general illumination of private residences and Community Christmas trees in many sections of the city. Holiday business was never better, seemed to be the general opinion of the storekeepers, and many persons who waited until the last minute for holiday decorations, provisions, and gifts found only empty counters on Saturday night.

The Commonwealth Country Club which has a golf course on the slopes of Waban Hill has voted to erect a new club house on its property to cost $50,000.

Work is progressing rapidly on the addition to the Newton telephone central office on Elmwood st., which was made necessary by the large increase in business during the past year.

Newton Bride Talks on Phone To Hawaii

The determination of a Newton bride to talk on the telephone with her soldier-husband of three months in far-off Hawaii, was successful after a week's effort. Mrs. Robert Leonard, 27, of 105 Brookline st., Oak Hill, concerned over the Army sergeant-husband's safety, put in a call on Dec. 20th. She was told that her chances of completing the connection were slim. Nevertheless she persistently urged the long-distance operators to continue their efforts. Sergeant Leonard had been transferred to Hawaii a few weeks after their marriage in Washington in October, and the bride had heard nothing since the Japanese attack of Dec. 7th, until last week Wednesday when she received a letter written on Dec. 13th, saying he was safe and well. At 2 a. m. on Sunday morning her telephone rang and the operator informed her that her Hawaii call was ready. The first voice was that of the Army censor at Hawaii warning against conversation of a military significance. Then her husband's voice and the allotted three minutes were consumed before the couple had said all that they wanted to say. At one point the censor interrupted when she asked, "Are you still stationed at—?"

Numecs Win Eighth Victory

The Numecs Seniors defeated the Somerville Cameos at Somerville on Monday night 56-37 to win their 7th of the season, paced by Bob Davidson with 16 points and Russell Keefe with 14. Doliber Underhill and McCormick all scored 8 points respectively. The Numecs 2nds easily defeated the Cameo 2nd 48-12 with Chester Brimblecom scoring 24 pts. On Tuesday night the seniors stacked up against the strongest opposition of the season when they met the Wollaston T. T. led by Eddie King, former Bates College star of last season. Wollaston led at the half way mark—30-19 in a rough contest played in a poorly lighted hall. The Numecs went into a close man-to-man defense for the first half and were kept in the ball game by spectacular shots by Captain Wayne Underhill and Russell Keefe to be on the short end of the score 32-30 at the end of the third period. With seconds to go, Harlow Doliber sank a splendid shot to tie the score at 41-41. Bill McCormick sank a foul shot to take the lead as the Numecs froze the ball on the second shot. It was a thriller and when Wollaston returns to Newton on Feb. 28th, a large crowd should turn out to witness the contest. Wayne Underhill scored 17 points against the Wollaston T. T. and Eddie King with 13 and Russell Keefe contributed 13.

The Numecs met the Everett Nomads Friday night. The Numecs will be seeking their 9th win against a team that has already defeated the Wrentham Stars and the Brockton Y. M. H. A. The Everett Club won the city title last year with only 2 losses out of 22. They are composed of practically all college stars. The Juniors will meet the 2nd team at 7:30, a dance will follow the game.

On January 9th, the Numecs oppose the Foxboro T. T. at Newton.

Tragedy Enters Lower Falls Home

Tragedy entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McGlennon, of 46 Waban rd., Newton Lower Falls, on Monday night, resulting in the death of Mrs. Helen B. McGlennon, the hospitalization of her husband and the near death of a five-year-old son. According to the authorities, the culprits behind the deaths of domestic difficulties resulted in the taking of a large dose of sleeping tablets by John A. McGlennon, Jr., 35, manufacturer's agent. It is alleged that the tablets were obtained by Mrs. McGlennon and that she had intended to take them herself.

Upon discovery of the father's condition, his wife and her physician, Dr. Lewis A. Pilcher, of Newton Centre, removed him to the hospital where prompt treatment saved his life although he remained in a serious condition. Upon her return from the hospital, Mrs. McGlennon drove the car into the garage, closed the door and allowed the motor to remain running. She became the victim of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The family dog, in the kitchen above the garage, began barking and five-year-old John got out of bed to go to him. Soon afterwards the boy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGlennon of Chatham, who had been visiting the family, found both the boy and dog overcome. Dr. Pilcher and firemen were summoned and the boy and his pet revived. The fire department inhalators were employed unsuccessfully upon the child's mother.

According to authorities the McGlennons had consulted a psychiatrist in an attempt to solve their domestic difficulties.

Funeral services for Mrs. McGlennon were held on Wednesday morning at the Newton Cemetery Chapel, Rev. Roger W. Bennett, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, officiating. Besides her husband, Mrs. McGlennon leaves three children, Caroline 10, John A., 3rd, 5, and Richard, 1; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges of Waban, and a sister.

New Tire Board Begins Duties

Former Rep. Baker Heads Local Rationing Board To Consider Applications

Newton's Quota For January Is Largest In Middlesex County

In conjunction with federal and state plans for the rationing of automobile tires Mayor Paul M. Goddard late last week announced the appointment of the Newton Tire Rationing Board. Former State Representative William B. Baker of West Newton was named chairman. Other members are Charles R. Davis of Oak Hill and Edward O. Proctor of Newton Centre. The Board organized on Monday and selected Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell as Public Administrator and Miss Helen Duggan as clerk.

On Monday the Board sent letters to Newton tire dealers who have been designated as inspectors to examine tires of applicants and to pass on the question of need for new tires. Applications must be presented to Administrator Campbell. The law specifically defines those who are eligible and Newton's quota for January is 71 tires and 59 tubes for passenger cars, light trucks and motorcycles and 54 tires and 45 tubes for buses and trucks. This quota is the largest of any municipality in Middlesex County.

The rationing board has quarters in one of the aldermanic committee rooms. Chairman Baker, a former Representative, is also a former alderman. He served as vice-chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Appoint Rich To ARP Work

Howard L. Rich, an architect and member of the Newton Recreation Commission has been appointed confidential executive secretary to Mayor Paul M. Goddard. He has been assigned to civilian defense at A. R. P. Headquarters. The Board of Aldermen appropriated $500 for his salary for two months. Mr. Rich, who was born in Newton, is a graduate of the Newton High School, Wesleyan University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has been a member of the recreation commission for many years. He resides with his family at 269 Franklin st., Newton.

Ask Relaxing Of Building Laws Here

Shortage of Materials Makes It Difficult To Meet Specifications

A petition has been presented to the Newton Board of Aldermen asking that the city relax on some of the stringent requirements of the building code in the interests of national defense. The petition was signed by 52 persons including architects and builders. The petition calls for changes in the regulations to bring about savings in material, including lumber, steel, concrete and masonry, namely the requirement of steel bolts to fasten sills to foundations, that the required thickness of concrete foundations from small homes be cut from 12 to 10 inches and for garages and porches from 10 to 8 inches; that instead of the use of steel frames and wired glass for garage windows, wood frames and plain or glazed glass be permitted, and that corner posts of 4 x 6 inches be permissible instead of 4 to 8 inches. They also requested that instead of requiring chimneys for all rooms where cooking is to be done, galvanized vent pipes covered with asbestos be permitted, and in duplex houses where 8 inch masonry walls are now required that 4 inch stud walls be allowed.

Dedicate Chapel At Upper Falls

A new children's unit with children's chapel and classrooms will be dedicated at the First Methodist Church on Summer st. at Newton Upper Falls on Sunday. Rev. William Gunter, D.D., superintendent of the Boston District, will preach at the morning service at 10:45 o'clock, on the topic "Keeping the Afterglow." Bishop G. Bronley Oxnham, bishop of the New England Area of the Methodist Church, will speak at the afternoon service at 3:00 p. m., and will then dedicate the new unit. Children of the church will unveil the beautiful window at the worship center of the chapel, at the close of the dedication service.

The new addition is on the northeast corner of the old colonial style church, which itself was built in 1827, and is one of the old architectural landmarks of the city of Newton. The motif of the architecture of the church tower and of its facade is taken up in the new palladium window above the altar of the Children's Chapel. Each of the forty-five panes of glass of this window has a picture of some story from religious history of particular interest to children and of value in their religious education. The chapel is furnished in a color harmony which is climaxed in a blue altar with ivory vases and an ivory-colored figure of the Christ as a boy with outstretched arms. An

Restaurants Facing Loss Of Licenses

Unsanitary Conditions In Many Condemned By Health Authorities

Announcement was made on last Friday by the Newton Health Department to the License Commission that it will not approve the issuance of renewals of common victualer licenses to 22 eating establishments whose methods of washing and sanitizing drinking utensils were rated as unsatisfactory. The necessary steps are taken to improve these methods and the Health Department is assured that such improved methods will be carried out in the future.

Dr. Ernest H. Morris, director of public health, stated that the publication last October of ratings of establishments had exercised a beneficial effect as 31 out of 69 establishments which has been rated as "Fair" and "Satisfactory" had taken steps to improve conditions.

A letter has been sent to the owner of every unsatisfactory establishment notifying him of the action of the department and offering to advise him as to how he may secure satisfactory results.

Ask Half-Pay Pension Plan Be Returned

City Foremen Ask Change From Present System

A petition has been filed at City Hall that the city government of Newton accept the statute providing for pensions of half pay for the foremen employed in city departments. Under an old law, the foremen now receive pensions of only $500 each while the laborers who are retired receive pensions of half pay which often amounts to $900 a year. The foremen contend that they are thus unjustly penalized because of their promotion. Over a dozen foremen in the Street, Water and Recreation departments are affected by this situation as well as the laborers who may be promoted to foremen.

The pension of one half pay for city laborers was in effect at the time the Contributory Retirement System was adopted in 1928, calling for contributions by employees to the pension fund and provided for pensions based on the length of service of the employees at the time of retirement. Those who were in the employ of the city at the time this act was passed were not required to become members of the system but all those who entered the employ of the city after that time were required to join. A law was subsequently adopted setting the maximum pension for foremen at $500 and the men who were later promoted to the position of foremen lost their half-pay pension rights. The Foremen are employed on an annual salary, are entitled to sick pay and five days off each year in the event of a death in their families.

The four remaining members of the Newton Police reserve force were appointed to regular duty on last Friday to take the place of the regular men who are doing the annual listing. The four men appointed are Alexander Zilinski, David H. Kerr, Jr., Harry J. Rogers and George H. Veduccio. The other six reserve men have been recently appointed to the regular force, and their places could not be filled because the list of eligible candidates had been exhausted and a new examination will have to be held. Patrolman Bernard Fitzpatrick, who has been ill, has been granted a leave of absence. Joseph Whelan of 153 Cherry st. has been appointed a temporary patrolman. He served previously for one summer as a temporary officer.

As the reserve list has now been exhausted, Chief Hughes on Tuesday of this week announced the appointment of five more temporary patrolmen to bring the police force up to the increased number authorized by the Board of Aldermen on Jan. 1. The new appointees are James E. Murphy of 10 Middle st., Charles E. Feeley of 133 Chapel st., Herbert O. Holmsted of 40 Cypress st., Arthur H. McCarthy of 87 Randlett park and Joseph M. Devoy of 289 Cherry st.

The appointment of the ten new patrolmen was authorized when the Board of Aldermen appropriated sum of $3,000 for their salaries. The board also appropriated $750 for uniforms and equipment for the six temporary men. These temporary men are planning to take the examination for appointment to the reserve force.

Mayor Asks Citizens To Save Waste

We can all help in the present emergency by saving all waste materials. The City of Newton is now conserving all newspapers, corrugated boxes, cartons, paper bags and magazines. All such papers are collected by the Street Department and should be placed in the regular containers for the City to collect on the regular days for such collections. As usual, ashes, bottles and other solids should be in a separate container.

PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.

Forum Hears Interesting Talk On War

Frank Gervasi, Assistant Editor, Collier's, Speaker

A large audience attending the Newton Forum meeting last Sunday afternoon at the Newton High School prepared to hear Quentin Reynolds, ace war correspondent of Collier's Weekly, found his ardor dampened on announcement that the scheduled speaker had not arrived from England in time to fill his engagement. The audience, however, remained and much to its pleasure was well repaid for turning out at the first winter's storm to hear Frank Gervasi, "running mate" of Reynolds, whose dynamic personality and interesting talk on conditions and experiences on his foreign assignment as a war correspondent and associate editor of Collier's soon displaced their earlier disappointment.

Gervasi predicted that a combined British and American force would smash the German Army by invasion. He asserted that the Axis is attempting a "gargantuan squeeze play" and that it would fail. The speaker, who returned in October from the Philippines and Dutch East Indies, stated that although termed as Reynolds' "running mate" he had not seen him for months, but this time he had refused to go to England recently and was going to wait for him.

He blamed Governor-General Francis W. Sayre for lack of preparedness against air raids in the Philippines and stated that when he had accused him of having done nothing "he showed me a thick report of what should be done when the bombs came." Mr. Gervasi added, "I hope your plans have proceeded beyond the report stage."

In reply to questions from the audience Gervasi pointed out that Pearl Harbor was inadequately patrolled because of extensive lobbying against war preparedness in Congress and because "you people did not want to pay taxes." He pointed out also that Jap fifth columnists played a big part in the success of the attack. "Who brought the Japs there?" he asked, and answering his own question with, "the sugar people, they wanted cheap labor."

As regards the retreat of the German army in Russia, he professed little knowledge of that area but pointed out that possibly in destroying much of the Russian industrial setup that the Germans had accomplished their purpose in smashing a potential threat from the north next spring. In reply to a question regarding the failure of the British to hold Crete he said, "part of the blood of Greece and Crete is on your hands, ladies and gentlemen. Men fought against steel and the cost was 27,000 lives and the British had not stood up against it yet. I would have said, the British want others to fight their battles for them."

He predicted that Singapore would not fall now that "we are in it" and that by defending the Philippines, Gen. MacArthur and his men, have helped the situation. He carried out the task of training a Filipino army in the face of obstruction by President Quezon. He told of personal experiences and friendship with Gen. Sir. Archibald Wavell and characterized him as the "greatest soldier of our times." He also had high praise for Gen. Jan Smuts, British officer in the Egyptian campaign. Mr. Gervasi made a clear distinction between an "Englishman" and "Britisher" and told of the gradual change from the old British viewpoint to that of the "Englishman's" which was more akin to that of an American.

President Kirtley F. Mather of the Forum announced the substitution of the speaker saying that Reynolds had left England by boat on Christmas night but that he had not landed at Halifax. "As late as noon today there was chance of his being here" but not having landed plane connections were impossible. Reynolds also had had a Saturday evening engagement in New York.

Seated on the platform also were Gen. Daniel A. Needham, head of the State Civilian Defense Division and John M. Bierer, chairman of the Newton Civilian Defense organization, and Donald D. McKay. Speaking briefly General Needham and Mr. Bierer stated that Newton and Massachusetts were doing all possible towards civilian defense. Gen. Needham asserted that "the war is just as much right here" as it is anywhere and each one has a part to play in winning it.

The next Forum meeting will be on January 18th when John Mason Brown, dramatic critic, of the New York Post, will speak on "The Theatre Carries On."

Opens on Jan. 22 With Mass Meeting

Newton is "all out" for the Greater Boston United War Fund of which Newton Community Chest is a vital factor.

On the evening of January 22 the Fund will swing into the Campaign with a mammoth opening meeting at the Boston Garden. For the first time the Fund unites the Red Cross, the Greater Boston Community Fund, with its 215 health and social agencies, the United Service Organizations—known as the USO—and the local Soldiers and Sailors Committee. Its goal is $7,600,000.

Newton has already done an intensive job of local organization in preparation for its part in this Campaign.

At a workers' conference held on Monday evening and addressed by Maynard Hutchinson, General Chairman of the United War Fund and by Neil Leonard, Chairman of the Newton Community Chest, the "let's go" signal was sounded. Maynard Hutchinson, Newton resident and 1936 Chairman of the Newton Community Chest Campaign, as well as General Chairman of the present War Fund, told the workers that as a privileged community Newton is looked to for leadership in this mighty effort.

Mr. Hutchinson reported enthusiastically on the advance gifts that are coming in to Boston Headquarters, many of them unsolicited. He declared that since Pearl Harbor the country is united as never before for defense and in its willingness to sacrifice for the common cause.

He cited two examples of generous giving, typifying this spirit. In one instance, the captain and crew of a trawler offered the United War Fund one-half of the profits on a catch of fish. A few days later the captain came in with a check for $200 as his share of the catch and the crew presented a check for $50 as his share.

The other instance involved a defense worker who offered to give his overtime pay earned at hard labor as his contribution to the Fund. His check amounts to about $7.00 a week.

Mr. Hutchinson told his fellow townsmen that such instances are being recorded daily as evidence of the unity that has spread throughout Greater Boston and that is making people more deeply aware of their gas and electricity and their institutions.

A report from Neil Leonard, Chairman of the Newton Community Chest, showed that every Village is already organized with a Chairman, Major, Captain and so on.

"We need more solicitors, however," said Mr. Leonard. "We want the people of the community to realize that this is their Campaign. We welcome every person who can give time and services to aid the common cause of humanity represented by the Red Cross and allied organizations united in the Fund."

"The United War Fund stands for those services which have helped to keep America sound and healthy. The Red Cross carries aid to our fighting forces and helps civilians in time of disaster. It nurses the wounded and dying, feeds refugees and carries on training classes for nurses and first aiders. Its services cover the home front as well as the war front."

"The USO provides service men with club facilities when they are away from camp, the local Soldiers and Sailors Committee has cared for hundreds of thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines when they are off duty in Boston."

"The Greater Boston Community Fund supports 215 social service agencies and hospitals in 46 cities and towns of Greater Boston."

Rotary Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held at Brae Burn Country Club, January 5, 1942, the club was host to a group of prominent manufacturers in Newton. Among those present were Mr. Vincent C. Stanley, president of the Gamewell Company in Newton Upper Falls, Mr. Charles D. Burnham, president of Burnham Brothers, Newton Centre, Mr. F. Clarke Atwood, president of the Atlantic Research Associates of Newtonville, Mr. Adna C. Dennison of the C. F. Crehore & Son Company, Newton Lower Falls, and Mr. McIntyre, Zenith Products of West Newton.

The speaker was Herbert N. McGill, president of the McGill Commodities Service of Auburndale, Mass., secretary of the Newton Rotary Club. McGill's subject was "The Economic Outlook for 1942," and he pointed out that under the stress of warfare there is no alternative but full absolute power by the government to dictate all transactions within the United States. A year ago there were no price ceilings, priorities, or production limitations. Today there are 81 priority orders, 26 limitation orders, and 61 price ceilings. The forthcoming price controls will do much to slow up the advancing price trend, but from a long-range standpoint inflation appears inevitable.

Mr. McGill emphasized that the cost of living was on the upward march, while the standard of living was on the decline. The one phase that interested all was the reference to the automobile situation. The ban on automobile and tire sales and the prospect of gasoline rationing by the spring is bound to have a profound effect upon business in general. There are 40,000 cars in the hands of dealers in the United States, and 87,000 auto repair shops, 400,000 retail gas outlets, and 94,000 retail auto accessory stores. This group accounts for about 22 per cent of the entire retail trade throughout the country. Any appreciable decline in the number of automobiles on the road would directly affect thousands of small businesses in towns and cities.

Grover Cronin in Waltham is an outstanding example. There is no alternative because there is an actual shortage of rubber as well as metals, and armament production must come first.

The members of the city government of 1886 and 1887 had dinner at the Woodland Park Hotel, Wednesday evening, in company with the heads of the various city departments and Judge Park.

Mr. S. M. Viles' 1775 sleigh attracts a good deal of attention upon the streets, as it appears regularly after every snow storm.

Miss Emma F. Johnson of Nashua, N. H., has been added to the already efficient corps of High School teachers, and has entered upon her new duties.

The poles and wires are nearly all in position now, so it will be but a comparatively short time when a light in the streets of Newton will be among the things that were. It is expected to have the electric light in Newtonville sq. Saturday evening.

Why should not the signal for "no school" ring out on such bitter days as were Monday and Tuesday?

A party of some forty of our ladies and gentlemen improved the beautiful moonlight eve of Tuesday, and its fine sleighing, and drove up to South Natick, to Baily's Hotel, where a fine supper was served, and music and dancing and a jolly good time filled the hours into the early dawn.

The Newton Ice Co. have employed fifteen horses and twenty men this week, getting all in readiness for cutting. The ice is now eleven inches thick.

Master George May's famous double bass, 18 basses, 18 horns, 18 drums, and the longer the run it will freight.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 8, 1892

J. Henry Bacon has just received a letter from the publisher and insertions for the season, and is displaying the largest assortment ever shown in Newton.

Mr. T. H. Carter's new home on Austin st. extension is nearly completed, and he expects soon to move into it. Mr. Carter is 93 years of age and is probably the oldest man in the United States who is building a house for his own residence.

The total number of deaths in 1891 was 373, against 353 in the preceding year; number of marriages in 1891, 314; in 1890, 258. The city council acted upon 1100 papers, including reports, petitions and orders.

The police department during the year 1891 made 1180 arrests, 350 more than in the preceding year.

The new gun for the High School has been ordered from New Haven for the Artillery Squad, and will be here before long. It is to be paid for by subscriptions from the different wards and by $100 from the city.

There was an entanglement of depot teams at the station Tuesday and Mr. Weir's carriage had but three wheels when he was straightened out.

A War-time Message to Every Man, Woman & Child in the City of Newton

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER WE STAND

ONE bitter November day, a sailing vessel of 180 tons nosed its way cautiously around the tip of Cape Cod and gratefully dropped anchor behind the shelter of the great sand dunes. After sixty-three hazardous days on the stormy Atlantic, this temporary haven was welcome, indeed. The year?—1620. The ship?—Mayflower.

Yes, that much is well-known to us all. But how many remember the event that took place two days later on board the little craft, before it proceeded across Massachusetts Bay to Plymouth? History records that here, in the dimly-lit ship's cabin, the Mayflower Compact was signed. It was this declaration of inter-dependence that paved the way for the Declaration of Independence 156 years later.

Three Centuries of the Community Tradition

Now, as we Newton residents are about to take our part in Greater Boston's UNITED WAR FUND campaign, this remarkable 321-year-old document takes on a revitalized, throbbing significance. For here were first set down the principles of cooperation that brought success to the colonization of America.

"We do," said the Mayflower passengers, in part, "solemnly and mutually, in the presence of God and one another, covenant and combine ourselves into a civil body politic for our better ordering and preservation, and to enact . . . just and equal laws . . . as shall be thought most mete and convenient for the general good of the colony."

"One for All — All for One!"

LET us give thanks for the wisdom of this little band of Pilgrims and remember how they stood shoulder to shoulder against the perils of starvation and Indians alike . . . and remember how the strong spirit of mutuality kept the "general good of the colony" uppermost in mind.

In the two weeks beginning next Tuesday, January 20, how well will we carry out this great tradition of brotherhood—how completely will we meet the threat to our country and to our community?

For Newton, with a proud record of civic achievement, there can be only one answer to this question. A far-sighted leader in organizing and preparing for defense, our city will set an inspiring example in raising its war chest.

Now America fights for its very existence

TODAY we stand united in common cause against enemies fully as cruel as those faced by the colonists. In the words of the President, "Our country has been viciously attacked and forced into a war of vast proportions, which will inevitably bring grief and distress to many and self-sacrifice to all."

Since the treacherous assault on Pearl Harbor, we have a three-fold job to do:

Answer the War-time Need for Red Cross Help

Needed—more nurses, surgical dressings, ambulances, medical supplies, measures against disaster, famine, and epidemics.

Strengthen Our Own Community

Needed—to keep all our agencies at the peak of efficiency.

Back up Our Fighting Forces

Needed—more equipment of all kinds for building morale. We can't let our boys down!

Only a Fit Nation Can Win a War!

NO ONE can foretell what tragic events the war may bring. It remains for us to fight the battle on the home front. We must be financially prepared to offer help that will not be "too little and too late."

This much we can do.

LET'S MEET THE CHALLENGE!

Good Neighbor — Be a First-Nighter!

Two thousand Newton men and women are voluntarily giving their time and energies to this campaign. I want to ask you to match a small part of your time against theirs.

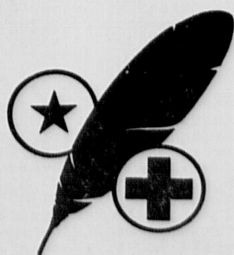

Won't you do your share by staying home on the opening nights—Tuesday and Wednesday, January 20 and 21—until the solicitor calls on you or gets in touch with you?

Each worker will make a loyal attempt to cover his entire list on these two nights. Help him or her to go out and go over!

Faithfully yours,

Neil Leonard
Chairman

Recent Events

The Auburndale Review Club

Three papers read by club members were the features of the first meeting of the new year, when the Review Club met on Tuesday with Mrs. Eugene Ufford at her home on Central st.

The president, Mrs. James G. Patterson, presided over the business meeting during which final plans were announced for the coming Guest Night two weeks later. All were to report to Mrs. Albert Palmer as to the number of guests to be invited.

Mrs. Patterson particularly stressed the coming mid-winter meeting at which the topic for next year's study would be decided. This meeting will be held with Miss Alice Dike on Woodland rd. on Tuesday morning, January thirteenth, at ten o'clock and is limited to the active members of the club. Each person was urged to bring suggestions for a line of study.

The chairman of the morning, Miss Anne Bunker, was unable to come at the last minute and sent her paper which was read by Miss Elizabeth Eaton. The topic "Royal Canadian Police" was treated by Miss Bunker so that it read like a fascinating novel. She told of the early beginnings of this splendid organization, with its less than one hundred men, who accomplished wonders in keeping law and order at a time when this was a difficult feat. She told of a single case where a man went out single handed and brought in two desperadoes after a long chase, illustrating the familiar motto that the Canadian Mounties always get their man. Today it is regarded as one of the outstanding features of the Canadian government, and England gladly pays for its service.

Mrs. George Howland had the second paper "Canadian Mosaic" and she showed how the influence of the many people, as the French, English, Irish, Jews and even Indians, had contributed to the nation, each nationality contributing its share towards the culture of the country.

The last paper was a review of Gibbons' "Empire of Steel" and Mrs. William P. DeWitt traced the growth of the Canadian Pacific Railway from its earliest days to the present. Explaining the country through which the first rails were laid as one who has still in many places a virgin forest, she brought out the magnitude of the undertaking.

Adding to this paper, Mrs. John Williams, who had recently made a trip over the country, contrasted the luxury enjoyed at the present day, with those in its earlier years, when she made a similar trip. At that time air-tight stoves were used for cooking the meals served, also for heating.

Well Known Drama Critic At Forum

John Mason Brown
Speaks At High School

John Mason Brown, widely known drama critic and lecturer, will address the Newton Forum on Sunday, January 18, at 3:30 p.m. at the Newton High School Auditorium. His subject will be "The Theatre Carries On," and he may be expected to deal with the relation of the theatre to current times. Mr. Brown strikes a well-balanced medium between the "ivory tower" school of critics and the type who turn out what seem to be political articles which have somehow strayed onto the theatre page.

Mr. Brown is at present the drama critic for the New York World-Telegram. From 1929 until last October he held the same position on the New York Post, and playwrights, actors and producers anxiously awaited his reviews the morning after opening and basked in his praise or quailed under his disapproval. He is the author of a number of books on the theatre, including: "Upstage," "The Art of Playgoing," and "Two on the Aisle." Every year he makes an extensive lecture tour rather like a Broadway hit going on the road. He spent last summer at Martha's Vineyard writing a book about the hazards and rewards of a lecturer's life. Three chapters in this book, which is to be published soon, have appeared in recent issues of the Atlantic Monthly.

Although coming from a long line of Yale ancestors, he went to Harvard, where he studied under Professor G. P. Baker in the famous Drama Workshop, and he wrote his first criticisms of plays for the Harvard Crimson. He started his journalistic career with the Louisville Courier-Journal. He has given courses on the history of the theatre, playwriting, criticism, and Shakespeare at summer sessions of the University of Montana, the Breadloaf Writer's Conference in Vermont, and at Harvard.

While often devastating as a critic, he is known as a scintillating and delightful platform speaker. He says of himself that he has spoken practically everywhere in this country except Union Square and Columbus Circle. Up until now the Newton Forum might have been added to these two, but on Sunday this condition will be remedied and a large audience may be expected to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear America's foremost lecturer on the theatre.

"MUST FIRST WIN WAR" SAYS MAYOR

United War Fund Drive Will Begin

Meeting of Newton Volunteer Workers At Dinner At High School on Monday Night

On Monday evening, Jan. 19, in the High School Gymnasium at 6:45 Newton Community Chest will formally launch its 1942 Campaign for the Greater Boston United War Fund.

At this inspirational Mass Meeting of the entire Campaign organization 1600 men and women who are taking an active part in the campaign in their own villages are expected to be present to listen to the proclamation of Mayor Paul N. Goddard urging all Newton residents to take part in and contribute to the greatest community effort ever undertaken by this city.

The Greater Boston United War Fund combines the Red Cross, the Greater Boston Community Fund, the U. S. O. and the local Soldiers and Sailors' Committee in the first campaign of its kind in the country.

It joins 46 cities and towns of Greater Boston in an all-out appeal for support of the wartime needs of the American Red Cross, the home needs of 215 health and social service agencies (14 in Newton) united in the Greater Boston Community Fund and the two great organizations which back up our fighting forces, the U. S. O. and the local Soldiers and Sailors' Committee.

The Newton Campaign Organization's goal is $285,000 of the total of $7,600,000 of the Greater Boston United War Fund. The High School rally will be presided over by Neil Leonard, the Newton Campaign Chairman. An address will be made by Mayor Goddard, a Newton resident and General Chairman of the United War Fund. The speaker of the evening will be Robert Cutler, who as President of Community Chests and Councils, an organization which covers the entire country, knows more than perhaps any other individual about the needs of our communities in the present war and about the far-flung effort being made throughout the country to maintain social service at a high level, to preserve the American ideal of neighborliness and the support of community enterprises.

The program will be enlivened by selections by the Highland Glee Club, William V. M. Fawcett, President of the Newton Community Chest, will bring greetings to the gathering, which will close with a tableau and singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Newton stands at the head of the list of communities which have completed their local organization. It is 98 per cent organized but, in the words of the General Chairman, this alone does not mean that the pledges are assured or that the local campaign quota will be subscribed.

Between this date and the opening of the campaign on January 20, when the solicitors will make their first rounds of their neighbors, a vast amount of work must be done by the Division chairman and all their associates.

It is the ambition of the Campaign Organization to have every Newton citizen represented among those who sign pledge cards or contribute to this great community effort.

Every Village in Newton has donated its Campaign sign. Red and blue posters and emblems have appeared in store windows.

School Air Raid Schedule

Children To Be Retained
Unless Warning Comes
Near Dismissal Time

Newton school children this week were provided with information for their parents as to the procedure to be followed in Newton schools in the event of air raids. A schedule and an accompanying statement were issued by Superintendent Julius E. Warren in his capacity as school air warden of the Newton ARP.

In the event of a "yellow" warning the pupils will be kept in session in all schools unless the session is nearing a close and during a "blue" or "red" warning they will be retained in safe "refuges" until the "all clear" signal is given or unless evacuation of a particular building is necessitated by fire or other emergency.

The schedule, compiled as a chart to permit parents to know at a glance whether the children are being retained or evacuated, shows that pupils in kindergarten and nursery schools will be retained if the warning is received before 11 a. m. or between 1 and 2 p. m. but will be evacuated if the warning is received after 11 a. m. or after 2 p. m. in the elementary schools when afternoon sessions are being held. In the junior and senior high schools and the trade school pupils will be retained (Continued on page 2)

Newton Catholic Welfare Committee Aided Many During Past Year

Rev. John A. Sheridan and Dr. Dorothy Book Gave Principal Addresses at Annual Meeting Last Sunday

During 1941 the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee made 2313 visits to homes of the poor or those in temporary distress, an average of about fifty visits a week according to the report of Financial Secretary John J. Cahill made at the annual meeting of the group held Sunday, January 11, at Our Lady's High School. 309 families comprising 1778 people were cared for at an expenditure of $18,030.40 of which $11,632.57 was for food and clothing, $2,969.76 for fuel, $960.91 for medical, dental and optical work, $1,333.50 for cash grants. Operating expenses came to only $102.16 as the organization is exclusively comprised of volunteers.

President M. John Barry introduced Wm. V. M. Fawcett, president of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., who spoke briefly regarding the United War Fund campaign. Benjamin W. Guernsey, president of Norumbega Council Boy Scouts made a short (Continued on page 2)

Cafes and Spas To Use Clean Utensils

Receive Health Dept.
Approval On Promise
To Improve Conditions

Assurance of co-operation towards the improvement of conditions surrounding the proper sanitation of drinking utensils in public eating places has prompted the Newton Board of Health to restore to temporary good standing all but one of the 22 establishments rated unsatisfactory. In the latest inspection and conference with the proprietors the latter have given Dr. Ernest H. Morris, director of public health, promises that immediate steps will be taken in each particular instance.

Periodic inspections will be made to determine whether the requirements have been met. In the event that establishments fall below the standard the license board will be asked to revoke the offender's common victualler's license. The one establishment of the 22 previously rated unsatisfactory that has been denied renewal of its license is being renovated and unsanitary conditions in the kitchen being eliminated.

The enforced improvements are the result of the campaign which the Health Department has been making to assure the Newton public of sanitary drinking utensils in public cafes and spas. The Health Department will continue to publish the ratings of 59 eating and drinking establishments in the city in the bi-monthly issues of "Your Health" which is issued to Newton residents. Proprietors of establishments found below standard are eager to improve their ratings in the face of the possible loss of patronage.

Bromley Oxnham of the New England Conference of Methodist Churches with the pastor, Dr. Hobart F. Goewey, Dr. William Gunter, District Superintendent spoke at the morning service at 10:45 a. m.

The exercises opened by a professional hymn by the Senior and Junior choirs leading the large group of the Kindergarten and Primary children.

Bishop Oxnham presided at the ceremonies which were held first in the main sanctuary. The keys of the new building were presented by Miss Doris Brown, chairman of the building committee, to Mr. O. E. Nutter, chairman of the trustees who presented them to Sylvia DeMoring, a member of the Children's Advisory Committee who in turn presented them to the Bishop. ## Bushnell Ruling On Sgt. Cullen

State Approval Not Necessary For Transfer
Of Newton Officer

The approval of the State Civil Service Commission is unnecessary for the transfer of Sergeant-Mechanic Bartlett Cullen of the Newton Police Department to the rank of regular sergeant, Attorney General Robert T. Bushnell ruled this week in an opinion requested by Director of the Commission, Ulysses J. Lupien.

Some years ago when a mechanically experienced officer was sought to head the mechanical work of the Newton Police Department Cullen was appointed. He had previously risen from the rank of patrolman to that of patrolman-mechanic. When the appointing authority at that time requested eligibles from the sergeant's list Cullen was seventh. A few years ago the position of sergeant-mechanic was abolished and Cullen was dropped from the police force. He appealed and subsequently won a court order for his reinstatement because of his seniority rating. Recently the Commission was asked to approve his transfer to a sergeant's rating and the director sought the Attorney General's advice.

Attorney General Bushnell pointed out in his opinion that the transfer would only occasion a change in duties. He held such a transfer would not be a promotion as the salary is the same in both positions. He maintained that if a position were abolished the law would require the dropping from the police force of the last sergeant appointed.

Newton Youths Enter Service

Enrolling in the mechanics school at Sheppard Field, Texas, the world's largest air corps technical training school, this week Pvt. Garfield Appleyard, Jr., of 171 Jackson st., Newton Centre, began training for rating as an aviation mechanic. Private Appleyard is attached to the 313th School Squadron and will graduate in May. ## Returns From Conference In Washington Impressed by Serious Purpose of Efforts

G. J. Martin Dies After Long Illness

Was Named Safest
Massachusetts Driver
Several Years Ago

George J. Martin, who was for many years president and treasurer of the Martin Manufacturing Co. of West Newton, died this morning at the Cardinal O'Connell House in Brighton.

Mr. Martin was in his 81st year. He was born in West Newton and was educated in the Newton public schools. After graduating from the Newton High School he entered the employ of Tucker, Hammond & Co., jobbers of hosiery and underwear. Sixteen years later while travelling as a salesman for another concern he started manufacturing curtains in one of his father's wagon sheds. The following year 1898, he devoted his entire time to the manufacture of novelty curtains then coming into vogue. He established a plant on leased land and in 1905 erected the building on Washington st., West Newton, at the corner of Folton st., where he conducted a curtain manufacturing business for many years. For the past several years he was a converter of cotton goods.

In January 1909 Mr. Martin became a proprietor of the Newton Savings Bank, in January 1913 was made a trustee and in January 1919 was made clerk of corporations and trustees. He was also a trustee of the Newton Trust Co. He was a charter member of (Continued on page 6)

Arrest Chef On Arson Charge

The arrest of Donald Tolan, 21, a chef employed at the Fessenden School, Waltham st., West Newton, on Sunday night following investigation of an incendiary blaze at the school, Tolan was arrested by Sergeant Patrick J. King of the Newton Police Department and Inspector Philip Deady of the State Fire Marshal's office after they and Deputy Fire Chief Henry T. Sawyer had investigated the blaze. On Monday the defendant pleaded guilty in the Newton District Court and was held in $5,000 by Judge Donald E. Mayberry. The case was continued until Friday to allow opportunity for counsel to be engaged.

About 125 students of the school, including a number of English evacuees, slept peacefully Saturday night through the excitement attendant to the fire which was extinguished by the automatic sprinkler system. Fire department responded to an automatic alarm which the blaze in an attic of the building had set off but found little to do. The structure where the blaze occurred is connected with the main building of the school by a passageway and is occupied by the chefs and kitchen employees. About ten employees were in the dormitory on the second floor when the fire occurred. The dormitories of the students are in another section of the building and none of them knew until Sunday morning of the arrival of fire apparatus. The fire is believed to have started in a pile of papers. Occupants below were unaware of the fire until the automatic sprinklers had opened and water seeped through the ceilings. The alarm from Box 343 was sounded at 11:33 p. m. and the last piece of Newton apparatus returned to quarters at 12:09 a. m.

A PROCLAMATION

Today our Nation faces the most critical period in its entire history. We are engaged in a total war to preserve not only our own institutions, but the rights and privileges of other peoples as well. We are now as a nation, and as individuals will control the destiny of mankind for years to come.

The United War Fund Campaign is a great humanitarian and patriotic undertaking, and must have the support of all loyal American citizens in our country's greatest emergency. This campaign is organized to include not only the American Red Cross, the United Service Organizations and requirements of our special agencies, but also the calls of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee. We must marshal all our resources and energies to the point of real sacrifice not only for ourselves, but for others. Our own soldiers and sailors have already been called upon to give their lives. With this reverently in mind, any sacrifices we are called upon to make on the home front for this United War Fund should be a glorious opportunity.

The successful prosecution of this Campaign is necessary, for we are seeking to rebuild the foundations of our democracy. Each year these foundations will be made firmer and stronger, and this work will go on long after the war is won. The challenge of the moment is before us. Let us not hesitate for a single instant to meet that challenge. Let us go forward with the consciousness that in our day we fulfilled our responsibilities to the generations to come.

Shoulder to Shoulder

After weeks and months of preparation, next week many Newton volunteer workers will start out to put the local quota of the Greater Boston United War Fund campaign over the top. In previous years the Newton Community Chest has been close to the hearts and lives of Newton citizens. With its fourteen agencies directing their efforts toward welfare, charitable, and character-building goals, the community life of Newton has been maintained on a high plane. Last year the Newton Community Chest joined the Greater Boston Community Fund, eliminating considerable duplication of effort and uniting in a common cause.

The war has brought further changes. The United Service Organization, caring for the welfare of uniformed men, and the Red Cross, carrying the cause of relief to war-torn peoples, have united with the Community Fund to stand shoulder to shoulder in the protection of the traditional principles of American freedom. The needs are great, yet there never has been a need that could not be met by a strength of spirit and a faith in the goal to be achieved.

Newton citizens have always responded generously. We have little doubt that they will continue to do so this year. For we are united in a common cause. First to fill a need for war relief, secondly to maintain our local agencies at the peak of efficiency, and thirdly to maintain the morale of the boys who are carrying the burden of battle. Newton awaits the call and will meet the challenge!

The War Comes Closer

Word of the presence of enemy submarines close to the Atlantic shores of America is an indication of the closeness of actual warfare. It is true we faced similar experiences nearly twenty-five years ago. But today conditions are vastly different. The advancement of science through the rapid expansion of air power as well as in many ways of communication, all have made the world a small place. There are many who believe that "it cannot happen here."

Yet that belief is rapidly being dispelled in the co-operative efforts to build a defense against any incident, however remote it may seem to be. Preparation is essential. Common sense is indispensable. Panic and hysteria must be avoided. Grim determination is one of the essential qualities which will bring ultimate victory. The spirit of self-sacrifice is another. America has the greatest resources, the foremost brains, the most extensive production and distribution systems that man has yet devised. We can harness all these forces for the good of mankind if we will.

A Real Newton Citizen

George J. Martin, whose life as a Newton citizen ended this week, was a Newtonian in every sense of the word. For many years he was a successful business man in the community. His interests were varied, yet chief among them was his desire to do his part in helping to make Newton the type of community which it has become. Mr. Martin brought distinction to the city when he was chosen from thousands of Massachusetts automobilists as one of the "safest" drivers in the nation. He was also active in financial affairs and in numerous community activities. He will be remembered as a Newton citizen whose life among us was an influence for the betterment of the community.

and on electric light standards. The symbols of the Greater Boston United War Campaign of which the Newton Community Chest is a part have appeared. The Red Feather, emblem of the Community Chest, is flanked on either side with the Red Cross—symbol of the American Red Cross which meets human needs wherever they exist, and by the Blue Star symbolizing the U. S. O. and the local Soldiers and Sailors' Committee giving services wherever they are located opportunity for recreation, good companionship and the friendliness of the community in which they are stationed.

To the average citizen it may seem as if these Campaign reminders appeared of themselves. But behind their appearance is a story of community service and effort which extends back through months of preparation.

That Newton is so well equipped with the reminders of the Campaign, such as posters, literature, buttons, window cards is due to loyal and devoted group of women who have worked untiringly and with great system and forethought for many months.

To the Women's Service Committee headed by Mrs. Durham Jones, and to the various committees on Supply Service, Community Office Service goes the credit for this preparation.

These committees each have their delegated services and long before the Campaign starts are busy preparing to carry them out.

The Supply Committee makes up the solicitors' kits and sees to it that each solicitor is armed with all the facts, arguments and information about the campaign, in handy form from which he can pass it to his prospects.

Members of the Couriers Committee deliver posters to stores and place them in public buildings. Delivery of Campaign material is handled by this committee, too. Members of the Office Service Committee are ready at all times to answer the call for clerical assistance that may come from Chest Headquarters at 93 Union st., Newton Centre.

The committees are made up of women who have given their volunteer service to the cause of community unity.

The members are as follows:

The accompanying statement by Supt. Parents were also asked to make arrangements to have children understand where they are to go in the event no one is at home.

—Welfare

address after which Rev. John A. Sheridan, Executive Secretary, Treasurer of the Catholic Welfare Committee delivered an address "Religion and Social Service" in his usual scholarly and effective vein.

Miss Dorothy L. Book, Assistant Dean and Associate Professor of Social Work, Boston College School of Social Work who was to have delivered the principal address had been called home by the serious illness of her father and her authoritative and interesting paper "Social Work and the Defense Program" was read by Miss Mary A. Mason, M.S.S.A., Assistant Professor of Social Work. There was extensive applause and much commendation by the many social workers present at Miss Book's masterly presentation of a subject of so much importance in the present crisis.

Father Sheridan said in part:

Religion and Social Service

Religion, as I am using the word today, means the realization of certain values in human life which certain values in human life which, though not actuated by religion, overlooks. Religion holds God to be the greatest of all realities. It clings to the tenet that the spirituality of the soul is real and that eternity is a reality compared with which time is a transitory phase of existence. It teaches the supreme value of the things that belong to eternity, and consequently, it places an estimate on the human soul and its interests which transcends all mere earthly values and is not to be measured by them when brought to bear on social service activity.

Religion neglects none of the tasks of scientific charity. It is ready to feed the hungry, to clothe the naked, shelter the homeless, to soothe the suffering, to console the afflicted. But in doing all these things it keeps ever in view the dignity of man and the value of the human soul and finds the warrant for all its activities in the promise of Christ. "As long as you did to one of these, my least brethren, you did it unto Me."

Science in Charity

It is not so many years ago less than 50 in fact, since the demand arose for more scientific methods of welfare work. As in manufacture, in transportation, in commerce, in travel, in teaching and in all the other arts, so also in charity itself, science asserted its legitimate demand for recognition. There was a time when anyone who had the requisite knowledge of his subject, and a modicum of common sense to guide him in imparting that knowledge. Nowadays, as you know, a teacher must have professional training, and it is recognized that there are scientific methods of teaching founded ultimately on the psychology of the human mind, and especially on the laws of growth and development of the child mind. Similarly, it was taken for granted that anyone who had a good heart and a fairly good head, and who, above all, was actuated with a love of God and of God's people, was competent to dispense charity to conduct any kind of work for the welfare of the needy and the afflicted. Then came the realization that there are laws of the aggregate as well as of the individual mind; that there are principles sociological as well as psychological; that there are methods and devices peculiar to this sort of activity as well as to others, and science at once entered into the domain of social-welfare and charitable work. The advantages to welfare work were undoubtedly great. There is less confusion, less overlapping of work; there are fewer mistakes, fewer blunders. There is more smoothness of the machinery (so to speak) and above all, more efficiency. Of course, the change was not welcomed at once nor everywhere.

A generation ago, there was some misgiving, some lurking fear that the new method of the spirit of charity and it was a New England poet who expressed his scorn of the relief bestowed: "In the name of a cautious statistical Christ." We realize now that science can be made the handmaid, and must not be the mistress of the spirit in charitable work.

Religion in Charity

The need of the hour, therefore, is not science in charity. Its methods are not to be used. I do not say that science has ruled religion out; for that is not true; but I do say that more science calls for more religion; for the ideal is a fair and proper mingling of both. Science, when all due praise has been given to it, is cold, is methodical, is stiff and inclines to be pedantic. Its devices lack plasticity and are, therefore, in a measure, inapplicable to so fearful a complex a thing as a human soul. When cold indexes, essential devices nowadays, and excellent in themselves, become the master, not the servant, in welfare work, the personality of the man or woman or child sink into the background. How much is lost when the case of a poor, unfortunate, but altogether lovable little chap, dependent, wayward, defective, whatever he may be, becomes a mere work record, No. 2643 in file K. No. 3. Of course, I exaggerate. But I do not exaggerate the tendency, the drift, the danger that comes from being purely and coldly scientific.

Now I know of no remedy for this danger except religion. Religion does not condemn or disavow the index system, the voluminous case record system. It does not discourage any effort we make to study a particular case, to tabulate the results, to label them, and to assign the unfortunate conditions to causes such as heredity, environment, adenoids, tonsils, parental neglect, or in general, the "sins of the fathers." You may even be justified in putting down wrong religious influences as a cause, or right religious influences wrongly applied.

Religion does not discourage such thoroughness of investigation. And, when you come to the remedies, better food may be indicated, a healthier environment, better clothes, cleaner habits, closer personal attention in school, or even the surgeon's knife. To all this, religion has nothing to say, except to approve.

Religion's Aid to Science

Let us, then, see what religion does to aid science in social welfare work. In the first place, religion sets a higher motive before the social worker. Science, left to itself, is exact, methodical, but lacks the loftier idealism. Its standards are noble, but not the noblest. It leans on principles of economy and social efficiency. Of necessity, it cannot reach out toward the full spiritual development of the opportunities. The effect, religion supplies. The motive of religion completes that of science; its ideal adds the element of the supernatural, since it views the recipients of its beneficence as children of God and heirs to the Kingdom of Heaven. Moreover, religion supplies a definite moral motive in charity work. It teaches that every act of charity has its special merit and reward. Even though charity fails, even though it be misdirected, even though it be abused by the recipient, the merit is there and the reward is in the hands of God as long as the motive is pure. Again, the religious motive best secures those qualities, in the social worker, which insure success. It gives courage, it gives sincerity, it gives humility, it gives the widest sympathy, it gives the greatest understanding, it gives the spirit of self-sacrifice, and more frequently than any other motive, it inspires a heroism that does not stop even at the sacrifice of life itself.

Finally, religion aids scientific charity by helping to eradicate the sources of distress. These are complex and varied, and science is competent to deal with most of them. But among them (chief among them perhaps) are the inordinate love of wealth and the lack of social responsibility among those who possess wealth. Crime, too, and lack of thrift are sources of distress. With all these religion can deal in a manner direct, peremptory and authoritative. What other power can reach the conscience of the individual, and show him his responsibilities? At least, what power can do that so effectively as religion? Society, which denies the right of the poor to their riches, over shoots the mark. Religion admits the right, but emphasizes the truth that with that right is associated the idea of stewardship. It teaches that he who has a just title may possess undisturbed, but it points out that the love of money is the root of all evil, and that he who has is bound by Divine law to give according to his means. That is what the Community Fund really means. Religion teaches industry, sobriety, moderation; it curbs extravagance in the rich, and covetousness in the poor, and so applies to the evil of unemployment, poverty which can heal the disease from which crime and poverty spring. Scientific charity is never so scientific as when it welcomes the aid of religion in removing the sources of distress.

By way of illustration let me mention for a moment that evil which is a virulent cancer in our city life, and which we refer to as the social evil. This is a source not only of sin and moral depravity, but a prolific source of many physical, domestic and civic evils and of widespread distress. City laws may be framed, vice squads may be organized and equipped, "control" may be exercised in one shape or in another; but it finally comes back to religion to educate the individual conscience, to teach an abhorrence of this particular sin, to warn in terms of Divine wrath, and above all to inculcate a love of purity by those means which are peculiar to religion; which while enlightening the mind, strengthen the will against temptation, and furnish advantage of the idealism of young men, emotions and the sentiments toward what is clean in thought and word and deed. By helping to remove this terrible source of distress religion most effectively contributes to social welfare.

Now religion, like every other thing that is good, may be abused. And religion may be abused in social-welfare work. Religion is abused when it is made a cloak for inefficiency. There is no reason why the religious worker should not welcome all the aid that science can afford. Religion should not be an excuse for slipshod methods or for indiscriminate giving. Though its motive is supernatural, its devices should be practical and come up to the standard of technical efficiency. Religion is abused when it supplants individual charity. There was something fine in the old idea that the actual personal handing out of food or alms to the poor brought somehow a special blessing to the giver. This kind of relief is now performed by organizations, and much better performed. But it would be a pity if the individual considered that after his contribution to the Community Fund has been made, his relation to the less fortunate ends and his duty is done. Neither organized charity should deprive the individual of doing his share from time to time, in his own way, and best of all, in a manner that only the Father or Who seeth in secret, may reward him. Religion is abused when it becomes overzealous. It is right and proper that religion should seek the benefit of souls. This is its duty and prerogative. But when it is used to "play fair," when it takes advantage of economic need in order to make converts to some particular sect or church, we have a particularly reprehensible abuse of religion.

Using Religion Sincerely

But our concern is not with those who abuse religion, it is rather with those who use religion sincerely and fairly, and of such may we truly say that they bring to scientific welfare work an element and a factor that is beneficial. Such workers welcome every advance in the method of charity-work, and willingly contribute their share, which is inspiration, elevation and the robust will to conquer all difficulties.

Here today in the city of Newton, religious workers and those who find inspiration in ideals purely social and civic, work side by side, in mutual appreciation and toleration, with only such rivalry as is healthy and helpful. When the plaint of distress is heard, when poverty, sickness and want, stretch out their pleading hands, then Catholic and Protestant and Jew and the representatives of civic or patriotic endeavor, turn with equal promptness and, according to their resources to disburse the means furnished by the more fortunate citizens to meet the wants of those whom fortune has not favored. And so may it always be, religion aiding natural humanitarian effort, and science aiding both in the noblest of all endeavors, the effort to benefit humanity.

Science shall continue to point the way and to contrive the best and most practical methods, the kind heart shall hearken to distress, the generous hand shall give of what it has to bestow, while religion shall lend the impetus of its loftier ideals, strengthening the upper of charity for more generous works and more abundant resources by repeating to each generation: "Lay not up to yourselves treasures on earth where the rust and moth consume and where thieves break through and steal, but lay up to yourselves treasures in heaven. For where your treasure is, there is your heart also."

Injured on Snow Removal Work

Slipping on ice beneath a coating of snow, Dominick Esposito, 45, of 338 Langley rd., Newton Centre, a street department employee, dislocated his shoulder about 7 o'clock last Saturday morning. He was attaching a plow to a truck in the Crafts st. yard when the accident occurred and was taken to the hospital.

The task of clearing the snow was begun early when the street department ordered all equipment to work as soon as it appeared the storm would be of some depth. It has been unnecessary for the Board of Aldermen, so far this year, to appropriate funds for snow removal as the city is authorized by law to expend the same amount each year as was expended in the corresponding month of the previous year for the purpose, without a formal appropriation.

Dr. Lindsay To Speak At Clafin Club Meeting

Lindsay, pastor of the Brookline Baptist Church will be the speaker. Dr. Lindsay is an outstanding speaker on European affairs and has been a fairly recent visitor to Russia. ## Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club weekly meeting was held at the Newtonville Women's Club on Tuesday with the guest speaker, Mr. John M. Bierer, chairman of the Committee on Public Safety. The title of his speech was "Air Raid Precautions," following which a motion picture was shown by the courtesy of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company entitled, "Spread the Alarm." Mr. Robert Fitzgerald was at the projector.

The highlight of Mr. Bierer's speech was to do less talking and really get down to work, as he cites that it is very probable that there will be incendiary bombs dropped. He also said that Newton is better prepared than the average city, primarily through the foresight of General Daniel Needham, who worked on defense long before Dec. 7, 1941. On Dec. 7th there were 1500 wardens in Newton. At the present time there are 4500; there are seven First-Aid Stations, 360 Auxiliary Police and 240 more to be sworn in. He also stressed the fact that we have got to be co-operative and prepare ourselves for the worst and we would be far better off than if we ignore the possibilities of bombs being dropped on us.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors at the home of President Ed. Pease, on Shorncliffe rd., Jan. 19th, at 7 p. m. Next week Charles J. O'Malley will be the speaker, his subject being "The Far East Situation."

St. Francis Guild To Hold "Gentlemen's Night"

Our Lady High Five Leads League

Staging a second half scoring spree to overtake their rivals and retain an undefeated record in three games the Our Lady High School basketball team defeated St. Mary's High of Waltham, 29 to 20 in a Catholic League game Monday night at the Our Lady gym. At half time the local school was trailing 11 to 15. At the end of the third quarter Jimmy Keegan scored on a side shot to put the winner's out front, 17 to 16. Marco Marino had previously made good on two foul tries with Clancy of St. Charles giving the visitors a one-point margin again.

In the closing period Our Lady rallied for a 12-point succession of baskets by Marino, Bob Fitzgerald, Keegan, and Walter Geagan while holding their opponents to but four digits, to turn the tide.

The victory gave Our Lady undisputed possession of first place in the southern division of the league. Marco Marino, All-Catholic forward last season, turned in a spectacular performance to keep himself well on the way to an all-berth this season. He tallied 10 points to lead his mates, Geagan with 7 and Keegan with 6.

Last Friday the Our Lady High five defeated St. Charles of Waltham on the latter's court, 28 to 22. The St. Charles team was experiencing its first defeat of the season and tumbled into third place in the standing, leaving Our Lady and St. Mary's deadlocked in first place until Monday.

Newton Five Wins Two League Games

The Newton High basketball quintet plucked a big feather for its cap last Friday upsetting the championship Rindge Tech outfit on the Newton floor, 20 to 17. The game was closely fought all the way with Newton having a decided edge in the latter half of ten free throws while the visitors collected but three of nine.

Bob Flagg with 11 points paced Coach Beverly Wilson's team with Sharpe setting up numerous plays and Harold Martin and Larry Tomasta at the guard positions stemming the Rindge offense repeatedly.

Rindge missed many shots from close up and were kept in the game by the outstanding play of the Smerlas brothers, Charles and Robert.

The Newton Seconds top the Rindge Reserves 24 to 21.

Newton Six Beaten By Medford, 4-1

Staging a valiant but vain battle the Newton High hockey team was defeated by Medford High in a 4 to 1 game at the Boston Garden last Saturday night. Newton's only score came in the second period when Ralph Joyal, spare forward, caged a shot from the blue line.

Medford scored twice in the opening period, the first coming on a long shot by Bill Gerrity in seven minutes after taking a pass from Sanford two minutes later for the second. Medford's third goal came less than two minutes after the second period began with Newton scoring at 5:15. Sanford caged the final tally a minute later with the rest of the game being scoreless.

By winning Medford went into a first place tie with Melrose, last year's champions, in the league race.

Silliker and D. Hartman with 9 and 7 points, respectively, paced Newton to its verdict over Central although the latter staged a final period rally to hold their opponents scoreless while cutting down the Newton lead by seven points with Young and Oliver sharing scoring honors.

A 10 to 3 second period game gave Newtonville with a margin over Grace with Bill Hanson the high scorer of the game with 11 points. Fawcett was outstanding for Grace. The organization has consistently opposed a state sales tax in the past. ## World Figures Portrayed At Eliot Men's Club

The feature of the January meeting of the Eliot Men's Club of Newton on Monday evening at the Eliot Church was the guest speaker, Mrs. Mildred Buchanan Flagg of Newtonville, writer and lecturer who presented in the form of a chat-a-long, thumbnail sketches of some twenty personalities known to the world around. Included in the group were Hitler, H. G. Wells, Lily Pons, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Padernewski, John Holmes, Oursler, Eddie Rickenbacker and Bette Davis. The audience of over fifty members and guests was deeply appreciative of the sympathetic handling of the personal histories of the speaker's famed acquaintances, her insight into the spirits that animate their intellects, and the comedy relief that all see who are burdened with responsibility in the world's work, as well as the sham and tawdry dressings worn by the villains of the tragedy of the war.

A number of soldiers of the anti-aircraft battery house in Newton were present. During a short business session of the club a contribution of $20 was made towards entertaining the soldiers at monthly dances to be held by the city. Plans were discussed regarding funds to complete the furnishings of the period in the new basement which has been renovated and prepared by the club. Future meetings were outlined including that of February at which Commissioner Eugene C. The Auburndale Review Club

China will be the subject for study when the Review Club meets next year. This, with book reviews, was voted when the active members of the club met on Tuesday morning with the president, Mrs. James G. Patterson, at her home on Central st.

The subjects for study included many other things, but the majority voted for a study which would not include the war conditions in that country, but its ancient and present civilization, its literature and culture, and its possible future when peace shall be established. As a committee to prepare the topics on this subject, the president announced Miss Helen Calder, chairman, and Miss Eleanor Pinkham and Mrs. J. Arthur Furbush. This program will be presented when the club holds its annual meeting in April.

Other matters including donations to the Community Chest were voted.

The Review Club will hold its annual Guest Night on Tuesday evening, January 20, in the chapel of the Congregational Church on Woodland rd. At eight o'clock there will be an informal reception with the president, Mrs. James Patterson, the director of the Twelfth district, Mrs. James Dunlop and the president of the Newton Federation, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson in line.

In contrast to the rather heavy program chosen for the regular meetings when South America in these days have been discussed, an amusing evening has been planned with Franklin Lacey, a clever impersonator, as entertainer.

This program is a most appropriate one for the occasion as it is lively and colorful and has an appeal for all. Miss Simes is lovely to look at and is considered one of the outstanding young performers of interpretive dancing. Against a background of brilliant costumes and special lighting effects, Miss Simes brings to her audience through dancing the best in Music, Story, Art and Drama.

Mrs. Raymond A. Green, President, will have charge of the program.

An informal social hour will be held following the program. Mrs. Carl B. Horton, chairman of the Hospitality Committee, will have charge of the refreshments.

Mr. Kenneth B. Backman, who was to have been the guest speaker at that time, has been called to Washington for government duty.

The American Home Committee and the Ways and Means Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will jointly sponsor a Valentine Dessert-Bridge on Friday, February 13, at the Club House at 1:30 p.m. This event will be held for the purpose of completing the club budget. ## Schools To Salvage Waste Paper

A waste paper salvaging project was announced this week by the Newton school department which is expected to produce considerable revenue to the city. Officials have made arrangements for the sale of the paper and salvage concern at a price of $1.10 per 100 pounds for composition and mimeograph paper, known as sulphide.

In the classrooms of the 31 schools of the city a container has been placed beside the regular waste basket in which the pupils will deposit the white paper. Other types of paper will also be saved including magazines and discarded textbooks. The concern purchasing the paper will collect it at each school.

The former practice of burning all waste paper in the boiler for the purpose of providing hot water and only that which cannot be sold will be disposed of in this way. The system has been set up and the regular waste paper demands upon the time of the teachers and in each classroom a pupil will be assigned to have charge.

In order to avoid the necessity of storing a large quantity of the material and creating a fire hazard, collections will be made frequently. Money derived from this source will be turned into the city treasury. The project has no connection with that being carried out in Wrentham, where pupils have been bringing old newspapers to school for the purpose of aiding in national defense.

Newton Industry To Expand

Aldermen Change Land In Upper Falls To Manufacturing Zone

To enable the expansion of one of Newton's important industries, the Board of Aldermen on Monday night granted a petition for the change of zone of a large tract of land in Upper Falls from private residence to manufacturing status. The petition was filed by the Stowe-Woodward Company on land described as bounded by the Charles River, the railroad, the manufacturing district land adjacent to the railroad and Sweet st., by unowned land at the end of Sweet st., by Butts st. and land of Guido, and by lands formerly of the Saco-Lowell shops between Butts st. and the river.

Alderman John Temperley argued that there should have been a provision in the action of the board to preserve the shore of the river for the city and to prevent the firm from filling in any part of the river adjacent to its property. No action was taken.

Chairman George E. Rawson of the Claims and Rules committee explained that the land would be used for storage for the present but that later it would provide for expansion of the plant.

A waiver of setback line was granted, after approval by the same committee, on the petition of Charles E. Marvin from 16 feet to 12 feet at 6 Dana rd., West Newton, in private residence district. Chairman Rawson explained that the petitioner desired to extend the roof over the front steps to prevent water from dripping upon them and freezing.

Alderman Rawson announced that in the future the committee on Claims and Rules would not approve any variances unless the petitioner presented blueprints of the property in question. He pointed out that the zoning ordinance requires that three such prints be submitted with a petition.

Successful Demonstration Reveals Several Units Will Be Needed to Cover All of City

Could Install Signals Within Thirty Days

The wailing banshees of the air raid siren on Monday at which time tests were pronounced successful also indicated that in order that the entire city might receive warning that the installation of several signals would be required. The test was conducted from equipment installed on the roof of Colby Hall of the Andover Newton Theological School on Institution Hill, Newton Centre. The hill is the highest, centrally located point in the city but the siren could not be heard in many places towards the outer fringes of Newton.

The experiment, covering about an hour beginning at 2:30, was conducted by R. C. A. engineers under the direction of Fire Chief Clarence W. Randlett. Reports indicated that the siren was heard as far west as Waban square, and as far east as Boston College and to the north to near Newtonville square.

At several fire stations in the city siren equipment is believed to be sufficient to provide the necessary warnings. Auburndale, Newton Lower Falls, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Highlands and Oak Hill, however, are not provided with such equipment and it is believed that four or more of the signals should be installed. It is estimated that the equipment and installation would cost approximately $300 per unit and that delivery could be made in four weeks.

The experiment was conducted on two types of sirens, one a four-way revolving horn and the other a two-way stationary type. The equipment may be operated either by electricity or compressed air.

May Use School Teachers In New Registration

The Newton School Committee is expected to formulate plans at its meeting on Monday night toward the use of school teachers in assisting in the draft registration of all men between the ages of 19 and 64 on Feb. 16th. In the previous draft registration pupils of the Newton schools were released for the day and the teaching force employed in performing duties in connection with that registration. Governor Saltonstall has requested that teachers throughout the state be again used for the purpose. It is further suggested that the registration may also be conducted on Sunday, Feb. 15th, in order that many persons would be inconvenienced by such a plan and would not be required to lose employment for the time required to register.

Dr. Sullivan To Retire From Pulpit

Served Trinity Church As Rector For More Than Fifty Years

Announcement was made last Saturday that Rev. Edward Taylor Sullivan, D.D., rector of Trinity Episcopal Church of Newton Centre for over 50 years, would retire as soon as a successor could be appointed. Formal action on the resignation was taken at the annual meeting of the parish on Tuesday evening. Dr. Sullivan is not only widely known throughout Newton for his long service here, but is widely known as the summer dean of St. Paul's Cathedral in Boston and is nationally known through his radio preaching.

Dr. Sullivan, who is now over 80 years of age, gained national distinction for his preaching ability and as the country's first radio preacher. In 1923 he delivered the first sermon broadcast by radio. A native of Bantry Bay, Ireland, he came to this country with his parents and settled in Detroit. He had a varied career as a railroad man, newspaper reporter and grocer before taking up studies at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., to study for the ministry. He finished his course at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge. On his ordination by Bishop Phillips Brooks in 1892 he was assigned to Trinity Church in Newton Centre which at that time met in a small hall. Dr. Sullivan has built the parish into one of the largest and outstanding Episcopal groups in the entire country.

During his service here Dr. Sullivan has occupied numerous positions of influence. He was editor of the Church Militant for 23 years and was chaplain for the British Naval and Military Veterans Association. He was a close personal friend of the late Bishop William Lawrence.

The annual meeting was attended by over 300 members of the parish and was followed by a reception by Dr. Sullivan. W. Cornell Appleton was re-elected senior warden. Other officers elected included William B. Barkley, junior warden; George W. Pratt, clerk; L. Lee Street, treasurer; L. H. Fitch, H. E. Rowley, Douglas B. Francis, and F. W. Brook, vestrymen for three years; John Whittlesey and Henry S. Cross, vestrymen for one year.

Approve Curtailed Deliveries

Milk Concerns And Health Dept. Announce Every Other Day Plan

The Newton Health Department announced late last week that it had approved a plan of every other day delivery by milk distributors in the Newtons. The daily delivery plan was discontinued in an effort to reduce the truck mileage schedules with a resultant saving in wear upon tires.

A statement in connection with the new delivery plan was issued by Arthur A. Robertson, milk inspector, as follows:

"Two of the larger distributors of milk in Newton have notified us that they would like to establish a policy of delivering milk every other day on several of their retail routes instead of delivering every day as at present. The purpose of making this change is to co-operate with the Federal Government and local rationing boards in conserving tires and gasoline.

Director Approves

"After conferring with Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health, I have notified the representatives of these two companies that the Newton Health Department approves this new policy of delivery. It is understood that the policy will be tried out for some weeks as an experiment and that if successful, the practice will be put into effect on other routes and probably by other distributors.

"Consumers on the routes affected by this new policy are urged to co-operate with their milk dealers especially in respect to not asking for special deliveries. Such deliveries would defeat the purpose of every other day delivery.

Just As Good

"From a public health standpoint milk kept a day longer than usual, loses none of its nutritional value. There will be little, if any, appreciable increase in bacteria count and any such increase will be of no significance provided the milk is kept in the original containers unopened until just before it is necessary to use the milk. The milk should be kept at a temperature below 50° Fahrenheit and preferably about 40° Fahrenheit. If these simple rules are observed, there will be no difficulty in maintaining both the nutritional and keeping qualities of milk and cream."

Start Campaign Against All-night Parking

Newton motorists who leave their cars parked all night upon the street will be finding them missing in the morning. The Newton Police Department through Chief Michael T. Hughes has issued a warning that cars thus found will be moved to garages at the expense of the owners. The ordinance will be enforced against cars parked for more than an hour between 2 and 6 a. m. The parking of cars all night has impeded the removal of snow and would constitute a menace under the national defense program.

In addition to the expense involved in moving the cars to garages the owners will face prosecution in court.

More WPA Workers For Devens

City Appropriates Funds For Transportation Of 28 More Men

A requisition for more Newton men to work on WPA projects at Fort Devens necessitated an appropriation of $1,566 by the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Chairman Carl Schipper of the finance committee explained that a second load of workers will be started on Jan. 22nd. The appropriation provides for the transportation of the men until the end of February and also provides for an expected increase in working days from six to seven. Each bus carries 28 workers for the project which is on an eight-hour per day basis.

Harold F. Young, Newton WPA sponsor's agent, estimated that the latest call will deplete the entire list of Newton men waiting for WPA employment.

An appropriation of $1,850 for the extension of water mains in Los Angeles st. and Midland ave., Ward I, was made to provide for the new Naval Department factory in Nonantum with water. Another appropriation of $1,390 was voted for extending water mains in Cook st., Newton Highlands, to provide service for new homes under construction in the vicinity.

An appropriation of $78.86 was made to cover shortages for the year in the treasury department. Alderman Schipper explained that this was a usual appropriation with that of 1940 being slightly over $100, while there was none last year.

An appropriation of $214.20 was voted to the Health Department to cover a 1941 bill for services as doctors and dentists' salaries which had not been presented during the year.

The department of Municipal Defense was granted three appropriations: The sum of $6,870 for the office work and salaries of employees at the report center for the first three months of the year, $900 for the committee on public information, and another of $350 for the women's division.

Two amounts, one of $10,500 for highway foremen and inspectors, and one of $9,900 for sewer foremen and inspectors in the street department, were appropriated for salaries for 1942. Alderman Schipper explained that the men under these classifications were on a salary basis and that the entire appropriation had to be made at this time. Ten employees are covered by the sum. Some of the ten men thus employed had previously been under a day and hour schedule, but the city accountant had stated that payments could not be approved. The finance chairman stated that step-rate increases were also contained in the item.

An appropriation of $750 was made for settlement of claims of Dorothy B. Stevenson, a minor, and her father, George R. Stephenson, for personal injuries to the girl and damages and expenses incurred in her behalf. Alderman Rawson stated that the girl had fallen on Centre st., near Carleton st., Newton, about 7 p. m., one evening because of a defect in the street. She had received injuries to the kneecap which caused water on the knee, and had lost two months of school which necessitated her being kept back an entire year, in addition to medical expenses involved in treatments. The amount, he stated, was an agreement upon the part of counsel for the claimant, and the city legal department.

Seek Bus Line On Beacon St.

Waban Residents Win Trial of Service In Plea To State

Culminating an effort spread over the past two years Waban residents have won the first steps towards the beginning of operation of a bus line on Beacon st. between Waban sq. and Newton Centre sq. At the request of the Department of Public Utilities the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway has filed a petition before the Aldermen for a permit to operate the proposed line for a trial period. The Board of Aldermen will hold a hearing on the petition on Feb. 2nd.

Last year residents of Waban filed a petition before the Board of Aldermen which was opposed by the company and rejected by the Board. Subsequently the petition was put before the State Utilities Department and a hearing held at the State House. The company again opposed the proposal but officials of the department suggested a compromise by a trial of the plan.

The line would operate from Newton Lower Falls to Cleveland cir. by way of Beacon st. The present line leaving Lower Falls runs to Waban sq. and then is routed over Woodward and Lincoln sts. to Newton Highlands and thence over Centre st. to Newton Centre sq. then using Beacon st. to Cleveland cir. Residents of Waban from the square to Newton Centre in the vicinity of Beacon st. are without direct bus service.

Prior efforts for the direct Beacon st. line were opposed by the company and also by some residents on the grounds that Beacon st. was narrow at some points, particularly in the shopping districts, and a traffic hazard would be created.

Name Group To Study Salary Increase Problem

The request for salary employees for increased salaries due to the higher costs of living will be the object of a study by a special committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen. The appointment of such a committee was recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard in his inaugural address and the committee was named on Monday night by President Charles B. Floyd. Serving on the committee will be Henderson Inches, chairman, John E. Barwise, Maxwell P. Gaddis, Carl F. Schipper and Howard Whitmore. The committee will also work with Ralph F. Taber, chairman of the school committee. The members of the Aldermanic committee, with the exception of Whitmore, were members of the committee which last year drew up a salary schedule for the clerks at city hall.

Several weeks ago Mayor Goddard received a request for a 20 per cent salary increase from the Newton City Employees' Union. After a committee representing other city groups of city employees, including the police and firemen, discussed the subject with the chief executive without making a formal request, Mayor Goddard informed the employees that the subject would be given consideration.

Temperley Resigns

Alderman John Temperley of Ward 5 resigned from the legislative committee after pointing out that there were two members of that committee from Ward 5 and none from Ward 3. He expressed the opinion that there should be a representative from each ward on the committee. Pres. Floyd accepted the resignation and stated he would appoint a successor.

Jump License Permits

Two applications for licenses for the collection of junk were granted by the Aldermen. Both applications were for the collection of paper only at the present time, as no storage facilities for the collection of metal and other materials were shown. The new licenses are Cyril W. Forbush, 195 Church st., Newton, business address, 431 Washington st., Newton, and Paul Kerrigan, rear of 12 Windsor rd., Waban.

Alderman Rodney C. Eaton, chairman of the license committee, explained that the licensees had agreed to notify the board if they desired to extend their operations beyond the salvaging of paper. Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman inquired whether the increasing practice of salvaging paper by the public had resulted in less collection by the street department. Vice-president Joseph B. Jamieson, chairman of the public works committee, replied that he had visited the incinerator recently and had noted no change. He added that the street department (Continued on page 2)

Dramatic Critic At Forum

John Mason Brown Sees No Great Play Until War Is Over

An interesting and entertaining discussion of current plays was given at the meeting of the Newton Community Forum on Sunday afternoon at the Newton High School by John Mason Brown, dramatic critic of the New York World Telegram. The lecture was preceded by a musical program by the Newton High School band under the direction of J. Collins.

Lingo. The speaker was introduced by Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, president of the Forum, who also presided during the question period which followed.

Speaking on the subject, "The Theatre Carries On," the dramatic critic predicted that no great play would be written until after the war. Great dramas, he explained, are only written when there is calm and reason and not under stress and excitement. "There Shall Be No Night" and "Watch on the Rhine" were among the current war plays he endorsed. He declared that "before Pearl Harbor" the best plays were those of the threat of Hitler as something remote. He pointed out, however, that with the first air raid alarm in New York the situation changed. Too many people previously believed that "all they had to do was to wait for the right button or to scratch a 'V' on a Fifth ave. window" to successfully combat the forces running wild in the world.

It was announced that the speaker at the next Forum meeting on Sunday, Feb. 1st, would be Frederick L. Schuman, author of "Design For Power," who will speak on "The New Order in Europe." The final session of the season of the Forum will be held on Feb. 15th with Vera Micheles speaking on "Latin America Weighs the Course of War."

Detain Harvard Professor As Enemy Alien

Dr. Karl Otto Heinrich Lange, of 24 St. Mary's st., Newton Lower Falls, is one of more than 30 enemy aliens who have been detained at the Boston Immigration station for the past month pending a decision on their status. Dr. Lange is a Harvard meteorologist and was scheduled to give courses during the second semester at the university starting next month.

He was arrested by agents of the F. B. I. at 1:30 a. m. on Monday morning, Dec. 8th, following the attack on Pearl Harbor. Some of those being held have been given hearings but none have been released.

Dr. Lange has been in this country 11 years, becoming an instructor at M. I. T. and for the past several years a professor at Harvard. He is a meteorologist at Harvard's Blue Hill Observatory and is an international authority on astronomical meteorology. He is the inventor of the robot balloon radio weather transmitter. He is a native of Wiesbaden, Germany, and a graduate of the University of Darmstadt. In 1933 he married Elizabeth Patricia Wright of Wellesley Hills.

They originate in the Church on Highland st., across from the Library and mark the opening of the new Sunday evening Vespers. ### To Show Hitler Boston Upholds Old Traditions

Roused to a pitch of intense patriotic enthusiasm 1500 workers for the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston United War Fund met at the High School Gymnasium on Monday evening, January 19, and launched Newton's part in the Greater Boston United War Fund, the greatest campaign for human needs in the country.

Speakers repeatedly stated that the eyes of the nation are on this War Fund Campaign. Robert Cutler, president of the Community Chest and Councils who delivered the keynote address said: "Goebbels, Hitler's propaganda minister, would like to hear that Boston, the cradle of liberty, had failed in this campaign and that democracy had cracked."

Other speakers emphasized the unity and patriotism behind this appeal, which unites Newton Community Chest with the Greater Boston Community Fund, the American Red Cross, the United Service Organizations (U. S. O.) and the local Soldiers and Sailors Committees in an all out effort to raise $7,500,000.

Speakers included Mayor Paul M. Goddard, William V. M. Fawcett, president of the Newton Community Chest, and Maynard Hutchinson, Newton resident and chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund. The meeting was presided over by Neil Leonard, Newton Community Chestman.

Held in the midst of the worst downturn of the season, the dinner meeting was an enthusiastic affair, representative of Newton's community spirit and cooperative effort in this present campaign.

Every village was represented with special tables set aside for workers from that part of Newton. The Highlands Glue Club and the Metropolitan Singers enlivened the meeting with appropriate songs and selections. Girl and Boy Scouts acted as ushers and guides.

In order to be present to give the invocation, Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman of Temple Emanuel left Cleveland, where he was attending the National Conference for Palestine.

In a pageant of historic moment put on by the Players, Inc. under the direction of Fay Roope, representatives of allied nations and occupied territories massed their flags with the American flag. Red Cross, the Blue Star and the Red Cross—symbols of the United War Fund.

In his address, Robert Cutler declared: "We in Greater Boston have the greatest opportunity that will ever come in our time to demonstrate our belief in the right. This campaign strikes the first blow of civilian peoples for our America."

"This is war—no dress parade. We are in it not for armies and navies, not for territory, but for civilization. It is a clash of ideas against ideals... our flag is nailed to the mast—we must have total victory or annihilation. What can we give in this campaign that equals one young soldier's life on the far-off dark battlefield of blood? We stand today before the most terrible judgment seat ever set up. Can we meet the test? Boston is the first great city to lead the way with a United Fund to meet the human needs in war time. The country is watching—the eyes of America are upon Newton as a part of the Greater Boston United War Fund."

Maynard Hutchinson, General Chairman of the United War Fund, speaking as a Newton resident lauded Newton for its 100 per cent organization of solicitors. He stated that the city will live up to its reputation for generosity on the eve of our great fight for thoroughness in giving that "thoughtful giving" will follow thoughtful solicitation.

Neil Leonard told his hearers that Boston and Newton may once again "fire the shot heard 'round the world." He reminded solicitors that they are not bell-ringers or people begging for alms for the poor, but rather American citizens giving other citizens a chance to do their patriotic duty and meet the challenge of war. He said they represent the victim in his shack in Iceland, the communist in Pearl Harbor, the communist's sick and unfortunate—the sufferers of war as well as victims of illness and need in our own community.

Speaking for the hospitals, health and social service agencies united in The Newton Community Chest, William V. M. Fawcett, president of The Newton Community Chest said:

"Once again the team has gathered from every section of this city. For the tenth year we meet on the eve of our good-neighbor visitation to the homes of Newton. 'Great changes have taken place since this time a year ago. But, still the talon-like hands of sickness reach out and drag with in their grasp poor and sick alike. (Continued on page 2)

Editorial . . .

The War Fund Is Going Over

Out hat is off to the nearly two thousand volunteer Newton workers in the Greater Boston United War Fund Campaign and to Newton citizens for the generous response that is being given to the greatest of humanitarian causes. Although no figures have been released as yet the Fund solicitors are repeatedly relating incidents showing that contributors are conscious of the increased needs of this year's fund over that of previous years. It is obvious that with the United Service Organization, the Red Cross and the Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee participating in the drive in a time of war, that a larger amount is necessary to carry on the enormous task performed by the many co-operating agencies.

The challenge is more than one of dollars and cents. Greater Boston cannot fail to go over the top. The fund is the first campaign for war needs in the entire country. The totalitarian powers would seize upon a slackening of any efforts which failed to enable the campaign to reach its goal as a lack of morale and determination which could be used as propaganda with telling effect. Boston and its surrounding territory is the birthplace and cradle of American liberty. We repeat, again and again, we shall meet the challenge, shoulder to shoulder.

Dr. Sullivan Retires

The announcement of the retirement of Dr. Edward Taylor Sullivan as rector of Trinity Church, after more than fifty years of service gives a feeling of regret, yet also one of great thankfulness for the work which has been performed here midst our fellow citizens. Dr. Sullivan will retire from the pulpit and from active participation in the direction of his parish, but such a useful life as his has been will never stop striving to lead others toward the goal of all life. For half a century the widely known rector, whose radio preaching has brought him thousands of well-wishers from throughout the nation, has toiled diligently for the Word of God. His influence upon the lives of hundreds with whom he has worked and played will live on in the years to come.

NEWTON CENTRE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Newton Centre market staged a most instructive demonstration of meat-cutting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Monday, Jan. 19, under the auspices of the American Home Committee. Beef, lamb and pork were shown in their various cuts and their various uses were charted. Nutrition classes, conducted by the Red Cross were invited and found the demonstration a helpful addition to their course.

Mr. Charles Burg and his helpers deserve a great deal of credit for their splendid exhibition.

had been sending an average of five tons of mixed papers away each day to be baled and sold under a new system of sorting that had been established. Alderman Holtman urged the approval of as many licenses as possible with proper restrictions in order to aid in salvaging for national defense. Alderman Kenneth D. McCutcheon inquired whether the Kerrigan license permitted the storage of paper either inside or outside. Alderman Eaton stated that the paper would probably be stored overnight inside of a building before being sold. Alderman Inches expressed the fear that unless care were exercised, business might be carried on in a residential district.

Aldermen Adopt Resolutions For Former Vice-Pres.

The following resolutions were recently adopted by the Newton Board of Aldermen upon the retirement of Vice President Clifford H. Walker. Alderman George E. Rawson was named by President Floyd to draw up the resolutions.

"Clifford H. Walker became a member of this Board on October 15, 1934, as Ward Alderman from Ward Five. At every election since that date he has been returned by his neighbors, generally without opposition.

"From the beginning of his membership he has not merely done his full share of the work of the Board, but he has made a conspicuous and outstanding contribution to the welfare and progress of our city. He has served on every important committee of the Board, and as chairman of the Committee on Legislation. His greatest service has been as a member of the Committee on Claims and Rules, where his great knowledge of the law, his sense of justice and his deep consciousness of the public good have been vital assets.

"For the last four years he has served us as our vice president, in which capacity he has shown himself as the wise and fair leader.

"Throughout these years it is Cliff Walker the genial and beloved friend, who has endeared himself to all of us who have served with him. We know that friendship will endure while life lasts.

"His service on our Board will terminate at his own request on January 1st next, therefore be it resolved that we deeply regret that Clifford H. Walker is retiring from our Board, and we say that his retirement is a great loss to our city and a sorrow to us; and that we extend to him our best wishes for health, prosperity and happiness the rest of his life; and be it further

"Resolved that we file a copy of this resolution with our records."

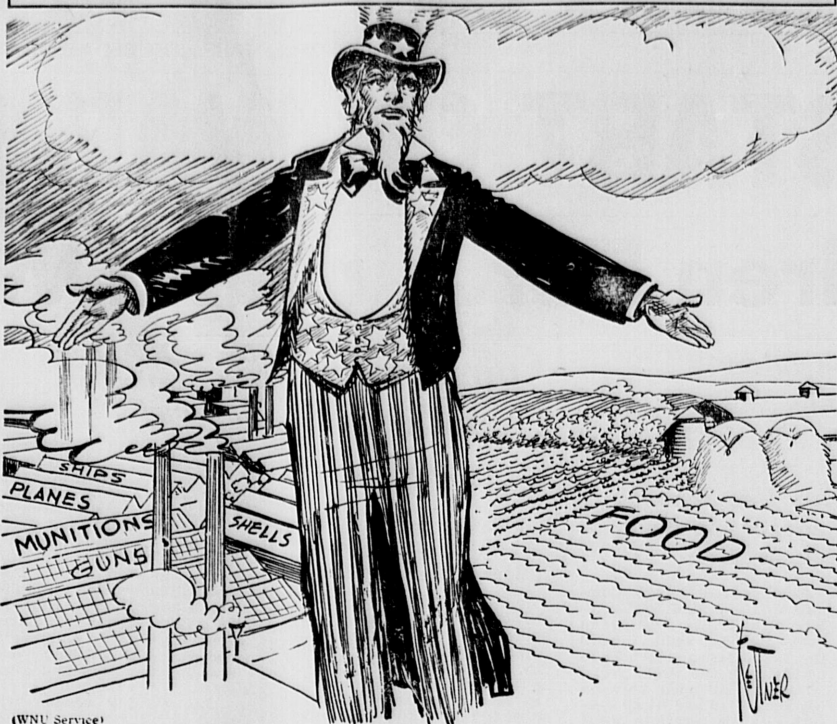

Alderman Rawson moved that this resolution be adopted and also that the City Clerk be directed to give Vice President Walker a copy of this resolution. Alderman Schipper seconded the motion.

Miss Thebom, a pupil of the late Giuseppe Boghetti of New York, has been heard over the NBC network and has appeared with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia, where her work has received instant recognition. A sleighing party of between twenty and thirty people came from Hyde Park to this city Thursday night, and had supper at Hotel Hunnewell. They were old friends of Alderman Harwood, and one purpose of the visit was to congratulate him upon his recent accession to political honors. The supper was of the kind for which the Hunnewell is famous.

Howard Brothers have harvested a fine crop of ice. It is over a foot thick and very clean and free from snow. They have filled all their houses.

The condition of some of the stores in the Clafin block, on Thursday morning, was a most damp and sorry one, a leakage in the roof causing the damage.

Mr. Joseph Brown seems to be doing a thriving business in his little corner in the post office, if the array of timepieces of all sorts and sizes go to prove anything.

Let us hope that some time the happy thought of erecting a hotel in Newtonville may strike forcibly the mind and the pocket of some one, that there may be a

LOCAL MOVIES JOIN "MARCH OF DIMES"

More than 100 M. & P. Theatres in New England are co-operating under their State Chairman Mr. M. J. Mullin, of M. & P. Theatres, in the national "March of Dimes" campaign to help fight infantile paralysis. During the week of January 22-28 those theatres will take up collections in their lobbies. In many houses, pretty girl volunteers will be "well wishers" who solicit the dimes. They will carry miniature "Wishing Wells" into which one may drop coins and make a wish. "Make a wish for victory" is to be the appeal.

The entire motion picture industry, throughout the country has been mobilized to help President Roosevelt's favorite cause. Close to 10,000 movie theatres will be enrolled according to expectancy of Nicholas M. Schenck, who is national chairman of the Motion Pictures Committee.

Among the local theatres enlisted in the infantile paralysis battle, are the M. & P. Theatres, Paramount Newton under the direction of Mr. George VanBuskirk, manager, and Newton Theatre, West Newton, under the direction of Mr. Edward Welch. Both of these managers have birthday cards, that might be filled, sealed, and returned to the theatre, where credit will be given. Let's stop and think. "Infantile paralysis."

This production, which has been directed by Arthur Kachel, head of the school's theatre department and a former captain of the 33rd Machine Gun Battalion, 88th Division in World War I, is the first in a series of weekly plays to be presented on a "no admission charge" basis to the soldiers at the various New England Army Camps.

The Institution Hill toboggan coast has been in fine order this week. It is located on the east side. The starting point is about half-way between Institution ave. and Ripley st., and at the junction of this street with Knowles st. the coasters have pre-empted the latter, and run its entire length to Station st. The Newton Center Toboggan Club has built this coast and proposes to keep it in good condition.

The weather prophets are only safe when they predict rain. The indications man tried to have the coldest morning of the season this week, but it was a ridiculous failure.

Officer Taaffe did some very effective and courageous work Monday, in stopping a runaway team belonging to Wellington Howes, and his brave act received the applause of the bystanders.

A very handsome turn-out was on exhibition at the corner of Church and Centre sts. last Sunday afternoon. A sleigh, containing two men and two girls made too sharp a turn and the four took an unexpected and unpremeditated turn over and out. No one was hurt.

The thaw bothered the electric cars on Wednesday, water in many places gathering on the tracks so deep as to short circuit the cars, and some five of them were rendered useless in this manner.

A recent dispatch stated that the Hawaiian government had named Senator G. D. Gilman of this city as its representative or consul at Washington. Mr. Gilman was for several years a resident of the Sandwich Islands and was held in high estimation by the late King Kamehameha and the members of the royal family. Upon the occasion of the visits of the king and queen to this country, they were guests while in Newton at the home of Mr. Gilman. He has photographs of the members of the royal family, with whom he has been in correspondence for many years. Mr. Gilman has received no definite information except that given in dispatches relative to his selection for the consulship. In the event of acceptance, it would necessitate of course his residence in Washington.

The young women of Lasell are accustomed at certain times in the year to test their avoirdupois. The December test shows the lightest pupil to weigh eighty-one pounds, the heaviest to weigh one hundred and sixty-seven. The average weight is one hundred and twenty-one. The average gain of the whole school from Sept. to Dec. is six pounds. The greatest gain is twenty-three pounds, forty-two gained nine pounds each or more, many have gained much more.

The "little city" has much to be thankful for in its present state, but there is yet much to be desired, and each resident of the place should do his or her part toward the future development and growth of Eliot. Stores are a problem for many years. The average, although they would be a decided convenience.

Savings Banks Aid Sale of Defense Bonds

Tremendous increases in the sale of defense bonds since the country went to war are reported by the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. Sales of Series E defense bonds by the savings banks of the state during December were $6,386,953, contrasted with $1,441,643 in the preceding month, according to Harrison G. Taylor, president of the Association. The total sale of all forms of defense bonds and stamps by the savings banks during December was more than $7,000,000.

Mr. Taylor stated that every savings bank in the Commonwealth was an agency for the sale of defense bonds and was cooperating wholeheartedly in the Government's program. He emphasized, however, that the Government wished the purchase of bonds from current earnings rather than from withdrawals from savings accounts.

"Many people," he said, "in their patriotic desire to aid the Defense Bond campaign have not realized that the Treasury wishes to attract new savings from the weekly pay envelope or salary check. They have drawn on their savings account for their defense bond purchases and thus defeated the real purpose of the campaign."

"The withdrawal of savings deposits may result similarly in the sale of holdings of Government bonds by the savings institution to provide cash reserves. Thus, savings so transferred are merely switched from one kind of Government bond to another and the Government's program of savings does not gain by the transfer. "The deposits in savings banks," he said, "are already at work; 37 per cent of them are now invested in Government bonds and practically all the balance in railroads, public utilities and real estate mortgages—all of which are important in the defense effort. Secretary Morgenthau recognizes this situation and asks for the purchase of bonds and stamps from current earnings rather than past savings."

The huge increase in the sale of defense bonds during December, Mr. Taylor stated, shows that the people of Massachusetts are quick to respond to the national emergency. "What is needed now and for many months to come," he said, "is the will to make sacrifices, to work and save. Every one should budget their earnings so that they can buy a defense bond or stamps every pay day. Many savings banks have established Defense Bond Clubs to assist their customers to save weekly for the purchase of defense bonds."

Rotary Club

Despite the heavy storm the club turned out one of the largest crowds that ever attended a Newton Hospital meeting. Speaking of attendance President Charlie reported that Newton still holds first place among the clubs of the District and that in 1941 there were fourteen members with one hundred per cent records for the year.

Miss Bertha Allen, superintendent of the hospital, greeted the club and introduced Mr. Hartman who is to take her place when she retires. Dr. Frank Clark introduced the doctors at the head of the various hospital services.

Lyscom Bruce presented Mr. Neil Leonard, chairman of the Newton Chapter of the United War Fund. Mr. Leonard gave some very sound and excellent reasons why we should help boost Newton's quota of $285,000 over the top.

A very enjoyable meeting was concluded with the singing of "God Bless America."

CAPT. JOSEPH FYFFE

Captain Joseph Fyffe, U. S. N. (S.C.) retired, who died suddenly in Chicago on January 13, was well known in this locality. His father, the late Rear Admiral Joseph Fyffe, had served several tours of duty in Boston, retiring as Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard in 1893. In 1890 the family acquired a permanent home in West Newton where they lived for many years.

Captain Fyffe was educated in the Boston Latin School, the Newton High School and Harvard College, and after a short experience in a Boston bank, was appointed by President Cleveland to the Navy Pay Corps—now the Supply Corps. He retired in 1938.

He served in Cuban waters throughout the Spanish-American War and received the Sampson and Spanish War medals. During the first part of this country's participation in the first World War he served afloat as Fleet Paymaster of the Pacific Fleet. Later, in New York, he was charged with the responsibility for the supply and "turn-around" of the cargo ships carrying supplies to Europe from that port.

In the early 1920's Captain Fyffe collaborated with others at the Navy Supply Depot, New York, in modernizing the "paper work" of the supply Departments of the Navy's shore establishments, and devising a modern system of inventory control. He later installed the new methods at Pearl Harbor Naval Base, the New York Navy Yard, the San Francisco Purchasing Office of the 12th Naval District, and finally at the Operating Base at San Diego which was his last active duty. Most of the recent great expansion of the supply facilities at San Diego either was carried out under Captain Fyffe's supervision or was initiated by him.

Captain Fyffe's World War decorations were the Navy Cross, with the citation "For Distinguished Service as Pacific Fleet Paymaster," and the Victory Medal with Clasp.

In 1901 he married Katharine Ellen Bon, who died in 1914. Later he married Anne Lockwood, who now resides in New York. A son, Joseph Bacon Fyffe, and three grandchildren, live in Wellesley; and a sister, Elizabeth Fyffe lives in Newtonville.

Cremation took place in Chicago on January 16. Interment will be in Arlington National Cemetery.

Newton Athletic Teams In Unique One-Point Record

In a unique record for the day three Newton High School athletic teams squeezed through with one-point victories while a fourth team was on the losing end by a similar margin last week. The hockey team chalked up its first G. B. I. league win, turning back Cambridge Latin at the Boston Garden. The track team, competing at Malden, chalked up a 39 to 38 victory to open its dual season by making a near clean sweep in the field event. The Newton intermediate varsity basketball team edged Waltham by a 32 to 31 overtime win while their varsity brothers were shaded by the Watch City varsity, 29 to 28.

The defeat of the basketball team in second in Suburban league competition, was by the narrowest of margins. Leading by 10-6, 19-13, and 25-19, at the completion of each period the orange and black saw its lead dwindle in the closing minutes until with but seconds to play the score read 28-27. Two floor goals by Roger Johnson had put the Walthamites right on the heels of the Newton five. Cliff Adams then sank one to give Waltham an edge but a successful foul try by Bob Sharpe leveled the count and another by Louie Paulino put Newton again out front.

A few minutes later Paulino sent Newton out with a three-point lead by dribbling in neatly to score with less than two minutes to go. For a short time Newton froze the ball successfully but following a Newton shot at the basket Adams snared the rebound. Breaking down the floor speedily Rodenhizer took a long pass from Adams and passed to Johnson under the basket and the ball went through the strings.

With less than a half minute to go Adams was fouled attempting a side shot and sinking both free tries brought his team into a tie and then to victory.

Bob Flagg was Newton's high scorer with 9 points with Bob Sharpe and Doug Teschner following, with 5 points each. Newton tallied 6 points to Waltham's 3 on foul conversions. Both series misses which in other games had provided Newton with a victorious edge, cost the game.

In the preliminary game the Newton reserves 32-31 overtime victory sent Waltham reserves down to their first defeat of the season.

Newton meets Cambridge Latin High on Friday afternoon at the Newtonville gym and will attempt a comeback to avenge a Cantab setback at Cambridge a few weeks ago.

Quintet Loses Again by 1 Point

In another thrilling struggle the Newton High varsity basketball team lost its second straight Suburban League game by a one-point margin yesterday when Brookline High pulled out a 26 to 25 win over the orange and black. The Wealthy Towners, by their victory, drew nearer to the Suburban League title while dropping Newton down. The lead in the hectic battle changed hands several times with Newton leading at half time by a 13 to 8 count.

The Brookline quintet, facing its first defeat, speeded up its play in the third period and before the period was over Mahoney, right guard, had tallied seven points to pace his mates into a 19 to 16 lead. With acting captain Bob Flagg playing brilliant basketball both on offense and defense Newton rallied gamely and with seconds to go drew to within a basket of knotting the count. Doug Teschner got in beneath the basket but was fouled in his attempted try and was given two free shots. Swishing the strings on the first effort the second failed to end the struggle.

Mahoney was the game's high scorer with 10 points followed by his teammate Mooney, league leading scorer, and Bob Flagg of Newton with 9 each. Sharpe, who played centre relieving Flagg scored 7 points as Newton's second high scorer. Harold Martin starred on the defense.

The league standing:

Our Lady Wins Two To Take Lead

Winning both its games in the Southern division of the Catholic Basketball League the Our Lady High school of Newton stepped out to a full game over its second place rivals, St. Mary's of Waltham. Last Friday the local quintet scored an easy 37 to 11 win over St. Mary's of Brookline for its fourth win and added its fifth on Monday taking St. John's of Cambridge into camp, 53 to 18. Captain Marco Marino, a leading scorer in the league last year, starred in both contests.

Against St. Mary's every man on the local squad was given an opportunity to play by the new Newton coaches, Johnny Murphy and John Cronin. With nine points Marino was high scorer followed by Wally Geegan and Bob Fitzgerald, each with 7.

In the St. John's game Geegan accounted for 21 points with Marino adding 11.

In its next league game Newton will be host to St. Patrick's of Cambridge on Friday evening at the Our Lady High gym.

The league standing:

Newton Sextet Wins First In League Play

In the hockey victory over the Cantabs Dave Hunting paced the locals with two goals, his first coming 18 seconds after the game had opened when he took a pass from Guy Munroe. Frank Perry tallied the second Newton counter early in the second period and this was followed by a Cantab goal by Reardon. Later in the second period another unassisted tally by Hunting put the count up to 4 to 1, early in the final period.

Cambridge threatened when the Leary brothers, Bob and Tom, each scored late in the game but time expired with Newton averting the threat.

Newton meets Rindge Tech on Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden rink.

Newton Tracksters Edge Malden 39-38

Losing but four of twenty-seven points in the three field events gave the Newton track team enough strength to become the first team to defeat Malden on its home track in three years. The broad jump was swept by Monro, Whynot and Hale and first and second in the shot put went to Houston and Segal of Newton. Cambridge made the high jump brought two Newton competitors, Gordon Thomas and Whitcomb, into the point division. Marchicko's high jump tie and Lipnosky's third place in the shot were all that Malden could figure.

Captain Ted Wood of Newton won the 1000 yard run over two Malden competitors while Charley Hyde won the 300-yard run with Ross Humphreys third. Barry, with a third in the dash was Newton's only point winner in this event while Malden also swept the hurdles. Whitcomb and Foster with second and third in the 600-yard run were other Newton point winners.

Newton opens its home track season this afternoon with Medford the visiting team.

Tie In Church Basket League

The pace setting teams in the junior division of the "Y" Church League continued to run neck and neck last Saturday when both the Newtonville and Newton Methodist quintets turned back their rivals. Newtonville smothered Myrtle Baptists in a 37 to 8 contest and Newton topped St. John's of Watertown in a close battle, 30 to 26. The winners each have won four games and are undefeated. The tie is due to be broken this Saturday on the Y floor when the two meet. In other games last Saturday Second Congregational topped Eliot, 24 to 20 and Grace Episcopal edged Central Congregational, 17 to 15.

Other games this Saturday will be Second vs. Central, St. John's vs. Myrtle, and Eliot vs. Grace. H. Carr and Bedigian led the Newtonville Methodists to their one-sided victory over Myrtle with the Mack brothers and Rhinehardt scoring for the losers. Fox and Silliker were high scorers for the Newton Methodists with Schweitzer keeping St. John's continual in the game scoring 15 of his team's 26 tallies.

The Second Congregational win was featured by Furbush scoring half of his team's total of 24 points. Gayzgian and Sylvestre were outstanding for Eliot. Halliday and Fawcett led the Grace offense with Young featuring for Central.

The standing:

Newtonville M.	4	0

League officials indicated that two of the three named teams may enter next year's basketball circuit to provide eight-team competition in that sport. Henry Lynch of Rindge Tech was re-elected president and William Lowder of Arlington succeeds Thomas Hines of Brookline as secretary.

The Numees Juniors staged a scoring spree in the second half, after trailing during the first two periods, to win a 44-34 game over the Weymouth Juniors.

Courier Service Is Rapid

Demonstrate By Reaching Boston in 65 Minutes

Demonstrating the use of emergency courier service a relay team of 19 Newton Boy Scouts last Friday delivered the annual application of the Norumbega Council charter renewal at the Federal scout headquarters in Boston in one hour and five minutes. Starting from local headquarters at 247 Walnut st., Newtonville, the distance of 9.8 miles was covered in thirty minutes ahead of an estimated schedule.

Scout officials at headquarters were surprised at the early arrival of anchor-man James Weston of Troop 2, Auburndale. Lead-off courier Allen Geron of Troop 4W left at 3:07 p. m. and Weston's arrival was clocked at 4:12 p. m.

Starting the message on its way, in a bamboo tube, from Newtonville were Benjamin W. Guernsey, council president; Henry T. Dunker, council commissioner; Thomas J. McGovern, scout executive and Eugene Campbell, head of the communications division of the Newton Public Safety Committee. The first named three drove into Boston to greet the last scout. Also at State headquarters were Don Mayer, regional scout executive and his deputy, Capt. Gunderson, John M. Bierer, national committee member and chairman of the Newton Public Safety Committee; and Donald P. Perry, treasurer of Norumbega Council who had planned to be present on the arrival, found themselves to be too late to witness the end of the test.

Boys in the team who were placed at half mile intervals to pass the message from one to the other were Allen Geron, Troop 4W; Bob Backer, 1W; George Brook, 2W; Payson Kenyon, David Tooker, David Wiswall and Robert Moore of Ship 10; Jack Weston, 2; Warren Stone, 15; Robert Peck, 4B; Bob White, 6; Don Fifield, 15; Walter Nickel, 11; Bob Petty, 15; Dick Long, 22; William Fawcett, 22; Bill Burt, 25; George Fernald, 7C; and James Weston, 2.

Sixty-five boys attended the courier training course started at the Newton Police guard room last week by Richard V. Molby, assistant scout executive. The course will continue for five Thursday afternoon lectures at 3:15 p. m. The first courier course started by the council at Wellesley on Saturday mornings is being attended by 62 boys. A third course was started Friday afternoon at the Newton Centre playground building with 35 boys and a fourth course is starting this week.

High School Pre-Graduates To Get Instruction in Machine Work For Defense Employment

Will Receive Diplomas In June As Usual

An opportunity for Newton High School seniors, who are not planning to enter schools of higher education, to receive training for defense industries was approved on Monday night by action of the school committee. Several special courses in mechanical training will be given at the Newton Trade School. Boy and girl students taking these courses will be released from their regular classes for the duration of the defense training and will be awarded regular diplomas in June.

Courses to be offered immediately will be one in machine work and one in welding for boys and one in light manufacturing work for girls. Each course will cover a period of fourteen weeks, 35 hours a week, for a total of 480 hours. Other courses to be planned would be in automotive and electrical work.

The plan was recommended by Supt. of Schools Julius E. Warren who stated that the courses were designed to prepare seniors to obtain employment upon graduation and to "guarantee a steady supply of workers for the duration of the war." He pointed out in a report accompanying the recommendation that there is a large reservoir of workers in the schools and that the extensive defense program has been unable to train the necessary workers, a task that has been delegated to trade schools.

With some rearranging of classes in the Newton Trade School groups of 15 could be taken care of in the Trade School and the Hamilton School. Some seniors could be enrolled for machine training in the regular Trade School classes to fill vacancies of those who have left upon receiving employment.

Further organization of the plans entail the possible change of the welding course onto a twenty-four-hour basis which has been requested by the State Department of Education because of a shortage of welders. The cost of this work would be borne by the Federal government with the provision that the pupil would be required to go to work as soon as he was able to pass Navy tests. To provide facilities for such extension of the welding course four new machines will be available within a month's time. Fourteen adults are at present on the waiting list for the welding course now offered.

A decision as to what phase of electrical work would best fit into the defense program has not been decided but it is recognized that foundational work for radio and signal corps operators and maintenance and repair men is most important. The addition of some slight equipment would prepare the school to carry on a similarly important course in the automobile shops.

It is further proposed that opportunities for high school seniors to take this work during the summer months will be provided. (Continued on page 2)

To Speak On New Order In Europe

Schuman At Next Meeting Of Community Forum

Dr. Frederick L. Schuman, Professor of Government, Williams College and an outstanding historian and expert on Europe will speak at the Newton Community Forum held in the Newton High School Auditorium, Sunday afternoon at 3:30. His subject: "The New Order in Europe," is both provocative and timely. Dr. Kirtley F. Mather will preside and conduct the question period.

Dr. Schuman, that acute and belligerent historian-critic-oracle and noted lecturer will draw from his many studies which have been published for his discussion. His latest book—"Design for Peace; The Struggle for the World" has just recently appeared. "A Primer of Power Politics," "Night Over Europe," "Europe on the Eve," "Germany Since 1918," "The Nazi Dictatorship," "The Conduct of German Foreign Relations," "American Policy Toward Russia Since 1917" and other books from his pen and his travels in Europe during the last fifteen years surely Dr. Schuman with ample background for his discussion Sunday.

An added feature which should be of interest to Newtonians will be a short concert preceding the Forum by Donald Blackey, young Newton tenor.

New Citizens Offer Services

Members of the citizenship class of the Newton Evening School, comprised of aliens preparing to become citizens, have offered their services to the community in the present emergency. Expressing gratitude and loyalty to their "adopted land" a letter sent to Mayor Paul M. Goddard reads as follows:

"We appreciate the heavy burdens which our municipal officials are carrying due to the present national emergency. Good men everywhere are rallying under their leadership to assist in home defense. As potential citizens, we wish to offer our time and talents in the service of our community at a time when so many hands are needed to safeguard the cherished freedoms of mankind. We are prompted to do this by a sense of loyalty to our adopted land, which is as strong in us as in those who already claim the rights, privileges, and duties accompanying full citizenship; and by a sense of gratitude to the community which has provided us with equal opportunities for gaining a livelihood, never asking our race, creed, or financial position.

"We await your direction—individually or as a group. We may be reached through the office of the Director of Americanization."

Concrete Stands Cost Excessive

To Repair Wooden Seats At Athletic Field

The present high cost of construction has forced the postponement of the replacement of the wooden stands at the Newton high school athletic field with a concrete structure. The school committee on Monday night voted to recommend a plan for the temporary repair of the present stands at a cost of $1,000. The plan approved was one of six suggested by Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell, which might be followed.

Under the proposed plan the baseball stands on the first and third baselines, which have been condemned along with the wooden stands on the north side of the gridiron at the Dickinson stadium, would be dismantled and the salvaged lumber used to repair the football stands. The stands could then be used for a two-year period.

The original plan called for the construction of a concrete stand to accommodate 1200 and to contain a storage room and sanitary facilities and the use of the lumber salvaged from the wooden football stands as repair material for the baseball stands. Commissioner Campbell reported that the concrete football stand would cost $25,000 if carried out by a contractor and $35,000 if built as a WPA project. In the latter case the cost to the city would be $21,000 for materials with the federal government contributing the rest in labor. Two other plans costing $12,000 and $6,000 were also suggested but discarded.

In voting to ask the mayor to approve an appropriation for the repair plan, the committee urged that sufficient funds be provided for the construction of benches along the baselines of the baseball diamond so that the field would not be left without seating facilities. Committeemen Thomas West and Raymond Cabot expressed fear that removal of seating facilities for that sport would further kill interest which has already waned somewhat.

No School on Registration Day
The committee voted to comply with the recommendation of the State Department, declaring Monday, Feb. 16th a school holiday so that teachers and school buildings might be available for use on Registration Day for the new Selective Service Act. Registration will also take place on Feb. 15th and teachers will be required to serve one of the two days. They will meet on Feb. 12th to receive instructions.

Secretary Harold Gores of the School committee described the system of salvaging waste paper recently put into effect in the 31 school buildings of the city. It is expected that approximately $1,200 will be added to the city treasury annually by sale of the waste paper thus saved.

The school committee confirmed the 7-1/2 per cent salary cut of 1933 and 1934 as a "temporary general reduction" that teachers who retire will receive pensions based on the original salaries for those years rather than at (Continued on page 2)

Seek Control Of Electrical Installations

At the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Feb. 2nd a proposed ordinance giving the fire and wire departments direct control over the installation of electrical work in buildings will be considered. The new ordinance, requested by Fire Chief Clarence W. Randall, has been recommended by Mayor Paul M. Goddard.

The proposed ordinance would require the issuance of a permit by the fire and wire departments before the wiring is installed and would authorize the inspector of wires to cut out or shut off the current or to have the electrical conductors or appliances were in an unsafe condition.

Fewer Deliveries Boost Milk Sales

Extension of the plan of delivering milk every other day, begun recently by some of the larger firms supplying Newton residents with milk, to other dealers has taken place during the past ten days. Dealers are reporting that they have received ready co-operation upon the part of consumers. The Health Department has announced.

Alexander Robertson, milk inspector, has stated that other dealers are planning to adopt the curtailed delivery schedule. Dealers who are delivering on alternate days state that instead of reducing sales that increased sales have resulted. It is found that with a larger supply on hand that families are led to consume more milk.

Drop "Tire" From Ration Board Name

Will Handle Rationing Of Other Articles

The Newton Tire Rationing Board has dropped the word "tire" from its title and henceforth will be known as the Newton Rationing Board. Signs at the board's quarters at city hall were altered to conform with the new designation which was in compliance with an order from the State Rationing Board in anticipation of the rationing of automobiles and other commodities by local organizations of this nature.

The Newton board has granted certificates for passengers and light trucks but only four for trucks of the "heavy" type although the quota for this class of vehicle for January was 54 tires and 45 tubes.

The February quota has been reduced from the January figures about 30 per cent. State Rationing Administrator Thomas M. Joyce has called for a rigid interpretation of rationing rules by all local boards.

Newton's February quota is 52 tires and 43 tubes for vehicles in the passenger, motorcycle and light truck class and 35 tires and 29 tubes in the heavy truck classification.

A refresher course for those wardens who took the original course during July and August of last summer has also been planned.

The courses for the resident wardens was for the purpose of instructing them in duties connected with precautions and duties in connection with air raids. The courses for the teachers were designed to instruct them to pass on the information to pupils in the subject of protection of children during air raids.

Speakers at the teachers' course were faculty members who had attended courses previously and included Supt. Julius E. Warren, chief school air raid warden; Miss Anne Leathers, Daniel Willard and Miss Katherine Curtis of the high school faculty, and Carl Penny of the Warren Junior High. Mayor Paul M. Goddard opened (Continued on page 2)

May Suspend Newton Forum During War

add May Suspend ForumM...-TN
The steering committee of the Newton Community Forum will meet next Sunday afternoon at the Newton high school for the purpose of voting on a proposal to suspend Forum activities at the end of the current season, perhaps for the duration of the war.

A recommendation supporting such a temporary suspension was recently submitted by the organization committee to the executive committee with the provision that a committee of trustees be empowered to organize forums as the occasion demanded and to assume a regular season's schedule when it is deemed wise to do so.

Evidence has been shown of strong sentiment to continue the forum, at least on a curtailed schedule. The suspension proposal is actuated by a desire to relieve officers of the burden of carrying on forum activities in addition to increasingly important emergency activities.

Secretary Walter M. Taylor, secretary of the Forum, reported that the finances of the organization are in excellent shape and that the Forum will finish the season recently submitted by the organization committee to the executive committee with the provision that a committee of trustees be empowered to organize forums as the occasion demanded and to assume a regular season's schedule when it is deemed wise to do so.

The committee is headed by Mrs. Victor H. Vaughan, chairman, Mrs. Clark W. Drummond, treasurer; Mrs. Walter I. Muldoon, tickets, and Mrs. A. T. Skakine, publicity.

Newton Again Wins Safety Contest

Announcement was made yesterday by the Mass. Safety Council that Newton was the winner of the inter-community highway safety contest among cities of its population class in 1941. Newton was the 1940 winner and has now won two legs on the elaborate trophy offered by the Council. The trophy must be won three times for permanent possession.

Newton was pitted against cities of population from 50,000 to 100,000, designated as class 2. At the annual meeting of the Council on March 27th, the trophy will be formally presented to Mayor Goddard by Governor Saltonstall. Lowell, also for the second consecutive year, was the winner in Class 1, cities of more than 100,000 population. Other winners in their respective classes were Pittsfield, North Adams, and Great Barrington.

Hold A.R.P. Warden's Courses

First Aid Instruction For 4000 To Start

Active training of 3,000 ARP wardens continues in preparation for possible air raids in the city with two Warden courses having been completed and two others scheduled within the next seven days. Approximately 1,000 wardens from Newton, Newtonville and Nonantum attended the initial course of the present series on Friday and Saturday of Jan. 9th and 10th. On Monday and Tuesday afternoons of this week teachers in the Newton public, private and parochial schools, numbering over 800, attended sessions. In addition to the teachers some 20 priests, many school custodians, public health nurses, and recreation department employees also were present. The parochial schools were represented by about 70 sisters.

The course, to be given on Friday and Saturday of this week, will be for warden residents in the Newton Centre, Chestnut Hill and Newton Highlands sections while another school, to be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, will be for those from the sections of the western side of the city.

A refresher course for those wardens who took the original course during July and August of last summer has also been planned.

The courses for the resident wardens was for the purpose of instructing them in duties connected with precautions and duties in connection with air raids. The courses for the teachers were designed to instruct them to pass on the information to pupils in the subject of protection of children during air raids.

"Overconfidence Leads to Defeat"

Newton is warned by Neil Leonard, local Chairman of the United War Fund Campaign that, though it exceeded 60% of its quota in the first week of solicitation it must not relax its efforts.

"While the 13 villages are off to a good start," said Mr. Leonard, "we must all guard against overconfidence in the final result. We have a terrible example of this in Pearl Harbor."

"It is Campaign history that a good beginning does not make a good ending, unless every giver and every solicitor tells himself constantly, 'It's up to me.'"

"Only by unceasing effort on the part of solicitors and by conscientious giving on the part of every Newton resident can we achieve the goal we have set for ourselves."

Mr. Leonard stressed the fact that owing to better times, because of war industry and aroused patriotism, more pledge cards are being filled in than last year. He said, however, that still more must contribute this week if Newton is to meet its obligations and maintain its reputation for liberality and civic spirit.

In reviewing to date results of the Advance Gifts Division, Joseph E. Jamieson, its Chairman, stated that returns so far show a considerable increase in the amount given by individuals, but that this increase must be maintained if the Division is to report successfully on Feb. 11th at the end of the campaign and make a showing of commensurate progress of the Greater Boston United War Fund, which includes the Red Cross, the local Soldiers and Sailors' Committee, the U. S. O., as well as the Greater Boston Community Fund in its appeal for $7,600,000.

Thomas Shirley, Chairman of the Residential Division, in charge of solicitation in all Newton villages, declared that the first week revealed the fact that Newton residents are alive to the need of sacrifice and generosity in these days of national danger.

"But," warned Mr. Shirley, "we have a long way to go before we reach our goal of $285,000."

"In the last campaign about 10,000 residents failed to contribute to the Chest. This year we note that these non-contributors are helping to pull their part of the load. In the first week solicitors and contributors did splendid team work and about one-half of our cards were covered. One team in one community is already 115% over the top, another team is determined that it will raise 200% of its quota."

"This is the spirit of co-operation which will win the war on the home front as well as the war front."

"If we continue as we have begun Newton will stand prominently in the ranks of communities as willing to meet its responsibilities for human needs. But we must not let down for one instant. Our work in the last weeks of the campaign will determine whether we win or lose."

At the time of going to press the following report of goal percentages of campaign totals for the 13 Newton villages was given:

	% of goals
Auburndale	91.6
Chestnut Hill	77.5
Newton	31.9
Newton Centre	77.6

Postpone Skating Carnival to Feb. 7

The seventh annual skating carnival of the Newton Figure Skating Club was postponed last Saturday and Sunday because of unfavorable skating conditions at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre. As many of the club and exhibition skaters will participate in the eastern championships in New York City this week-end the carnival will be held on Feb. 7th.

Welfare Costs for December Drop

A huge decrease in relief expenditures in December over the corresponding month of 1940 was revealed in the monthly report of the Public Welfare Department, issued last week. Director of Welfare James P. Reynolds reports that in December 1941 the sum of $10,450 was expended on 288 cases. In December a year ago $17,500 was spent on 492 cases. The number of cases in December of 1941 was, however, larger than the number in November with an increase of 24 from the earlier figure of 264.

Kiwanis Activities

A meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held at the Newtonville Women's Club at 12:15, Tuesday, Jan. 27th.

The Herbert N. McGill, of the McGill Commodities Service, Inc., was the guest speaker. His topic was "The Economic Outlook for 1942." He stated that in December, 1941, one out of every fifteen factories in the United States was working on defense, and predicted that within three months two out of every five factories in the United States will be on defense work, and urges everyone to co-operate wholeheartedly with the government for all out defense needs, as the quicker this country and other countries are supplied with armament the sooner the war will be over.

He also stated there is a possibility of rationing on many commodities used in every-day living. Leo Noel, Treasurer of the Newton Kiwanis Club, presented William Payne, the Secretary, with a $500 Defense Bond purchased from the club's funds. This is just an example of the workings of the new Defense Committee of the club, headed by Leo Noel, showing that Newton Kiwanis is back of the government and its defense program 100%.

Arthur Fisher of the Paramount Porch Enclosure Company of Newton Highlands was initiated into the club as a new member. Next week Frank Lombardi, a druggist in Nonantum, will be inducted into the club. The speaker for the next meeting, Feb. 3rd, will be William C. Waugh of Boston. His topic will be "The War and the Citizen's Individual Defense." He is connected with the Moore Publishing Company, who at this time are publishing a book on this subject. All members of the Newton Kiwanis Club are requested to bring old newspapers, magazines, etc., to the office of William Jassett, 349 Washington st., Newton. The proceeds of the sale of the paper are to build up the Underprivileged Child Fund.

Salvation Army Drive Over The Top

By reaching the total of $6522.80 in the Salvation Army annual appeal, which has just closed, Newton has become the No. 1 city among the supporting cities of New England where no corps organizations exist, according to word from the Army headquarters, in Boston. This total was reached after a carefully organized campaign under the supervision of Douglas B. Francis as chairman of the sponsors and William M. Cahill, as campaign treasurer.

Last year Newton contributed $5,628.90 to the Salvation Army and from a portion of that amount carried on a stand-out program of aiding those who meet emergency set-backs through the Newton Local Emergency Fund of the Salvation Army. The report of Mr. Cahill on this fund's activity for the year shows what can be done—what is needed through twelve months in a city as large as Newton.

"We are delighted with the support Newton Newton contributed," said William A. Nicol, public relations secretary of the Army, as he pointed out that Newton was the leader among non-corps cities of New England in supporting the work of the organization. Mr. Nicol also pointed out that while no publicly known work of the emergency fund in Newton, no praise would be too much for items of serving—carried on by women and men leaders in the life of Newton during 1941 through this fund arrangement.

the reduced rate of pay. Permissive legislation to this effect was enacted by the State Legislature in 1941 and the Newton Committee's action was at the request of the Teachers' Retirement Board of the state.

—Defense Stamps

An educational program designed to encourage children to purchase defense stamps was announced by Supt. Warren. It has been decided that the "handling of the sale of stamps would be inadvisable in the schools" and that the plan be followed would entail the sale of stamps at the school buildings on one day each week by an employee of the Newton Trust Company which had offered to undertake such a service. The plan will be tried as an experiment at one of the schools before being put into general operation.

—Emergency Post Office

The committee voted to grant the request for use of a school building as an emergency post office in the event the Newton post office building is wrecked during an air raid. Superintendent Warren announced that the Underwood School auditorium would be used for this purpose following the request of the superintendent of the Newton post office and the action of the committee.

Helen B. Lee, a teacher of English in the Newton schools, was granted a leave of absence from next September to February, 1943, to complete her work towards a doctor's degree.

An application for the use of the high school auditorium for a "patriotic meeting" on Feb. 6th was rejected by the committee and the secretary instructed to inform the applicant, a weekly newspaper (not the GRAPHIC), the request was denied because the proposed meeting was not sponsored by the Newton Committee on Public Safety.

The use of various school buildings for ARP services, first-aid courses, a Boy Scouts Parents' Night, recreational purposes by the Newton Recreation department were made for numerous dates through February and March.

"I feel very grateful to you for making my aunt so happy and comfortable in her last years.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Jan. 22, 1887
Mr. W. W. Stall is now in Washington, on business connected with his famous pictures of cycle celebrities.

The class of '87, of the high school, enjoyed a sleigh ride Thursday night, in a large, four-horse barge furnished by Mr. Daniels from the Nonantum stables.

The railroad company has to keep gangs of men at work removing the ice and snow from the Centre Street and other various crossings. Several days this week the local trains have been a few minutes late on account of the accumulated snow.

The state of the thermometer Wednesday morning was an interesting subject of discussion. In this part of the city, 15 below zero was the lowest point reached, but Newtonville boasted of 18 and Upper Falls told a bigger story by reporting the mercury at 21 below.

A large majority of the shoe and leather merchants of Boston seem to live in Newton, judging from the list of officers elected at the annual meeting on Wednesday. About half of them, at least, were residents of some part of Newton.

Now that the Boston & Albany railroad company have demonstrated the practicability of lighting cars by electricity, it is hoped that they will introduce it into their cars. A car so lighted made a trial trip around the Circuit last Friday evening and gave excellent satisfaction.

—The Elliot Church Fire

The great event of the week was the fire on Sunday morning by which the Elliot Church building was entirely destroyed, entailing a loss of some $70,000. The fire broke out about 8:00 o'clock, and was first discovered by a housewife and lady who were walking past, and observed smoke and a tiny flame coming out of the building.

While the fire was still burning, the parish and executive committees met at the residence of Mr. F. G. Barnes, and talked over what should be done in regard to church services. It was decided to hold a meeting at Elliot Hall at 4 o'clock, and an announcement was posted near the burning church to that effect. It was also voted to call a parish meeting for next Monday evening, to take the legal steps necessary in regard to future services and the erection of a new building, and Sunday evening a notice was posted near what had once been the front door to that effect.

—Notes of the Fire

The houses in the vicinity of the church were all thrown open Sunday morning for the reception of the goods that were saved, and presented the appearance of a museum, old sermons, books, cushions, chairs, carpets, and other odds and ends being scattered about. All of Doctor Calkins' sermons were saved.

Before the tower fell the residents in the vicinity left their homes, fearing it might fall on them. Happily the skillful management of Chief Bixby, who seems to be the right man in the right places, averted any such calamity.

If the church was to be burned down, time could not have been chosen. Two hours later, when a large audience would have been gathered, the fire would have caused a frightful panic.

The bell has been found beneath the tower, cracked so badly that it is only good for scrap metal.

The total loss is put at $50,000. The residents of the neighborhood kindly provided hot coffee and other refreshments for the firemen during the day, which was appreciated by the men, many of whom had left home before breakfast.

At a meeting of the Pequotette Steam Fire Engine Co. of Watertown, it was voted to extend to the people of Newton sincere thanks for their kindness in furnishing refreshments, at the burning of the Elliot Church.

The insurance was placed through the agencies of Francis Murdock and Edwin Holman.

Before the fire there was a division of feeling among the members of the church in regard to the need of new building. There is none now, and a new building will be put up that will be a credit to the city. It will be of stone, fireproof, and with only one story. So much has already been decided.

Lessons in cookery—Miss Barnes proposes to give a course of demonstration lectures in cookery, in Newton, if sufficient encouragement is received. Those ladies wishing to join such a class, will please leave their names at the office of THE GRAPHIC. Season tickets for twelve lessons, $14.00.

We are told that on Wednesday morning both teacher and pupils of one room at the High School were obliged to sit in seal skin coats and ulsters to keep comfortable. The mercury stood at 50 degrees in the room. Neither blood or brains can work in such a temperature to any advantage.

For some reason the striking apparatus of the clock in Newtonville was struck at an unfortunate hour on Monday, as it deluded so many children and teachers, making them think that the storm signal had rung out, so they turned within, away from the storm. The mistake was unfortunate, but no blame should be attached to the absentees on this occasion, nor ought the per cent of the attendance to be changed.

The letter box on the post at the railroad crossing has long been a source of uncertainty and inconvenience, it being at times impossible to open it, because of freezing weather. Especially during this last cold snap it resisted all efforts, although aided by hot water, salt, oil and other assistance, so it may prove a delusion to those who drop their letters in good faith. The postmaster seriously contemplates taking down entirely, then there can be no delay or disappointment.

The mercury fell to twenty-two below zero at the junction shanty on Wednesday morning. Query? Is there any coldness existing between the B. & A. and N. Y. & N. R. Railroads, or was it on account of the cold shoulder turned towards efforts to have gates or a flagman stationed at the Cook st. crossing?

Many persons from Newton Upper Falls went to the Elliot Church fire on Sunday morning last.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Jan. 22, 1892
The cold spell this week has revived the hopes of the ice-men.

Dr. Freeman is among the latest to receive a call from the grippe. He is confined to his house.

The tramps, who habitually winter at Hubbard's barn in Weston, seem bent on troubling citizens of Auburndale. One evening last week, it is stated, a lady crossing the Bourne bridge was accosted by one who begged for money and not receiving it, assaulted her, tearing her cloak and dress. Another lady was treated similarly a few evenings later at the same bridge.

The Lassell battalion officers are now conspicuous in bright new uniforms caps, chevrons, swords, etc. Each company has a necktie of its own color. There are three kinds, corn color, red and white.

The drivers of the depot carriages have returned to the former price of 25 cents per passenger.

Mr. Geo. H. Ellis has secured twenty acres of pure ice on Lake Winnepesaukee to be brought here, unless ice is found here on Crystal Lake. Mr. Ellis has over three hundred tons brought from the New Hampshire lakes two years ago.

The Polo game on Crystal Lake on Wednesday afternoon, drew a large crowd of young people to that vicinity from all parts of the city, and the play was watched with great interest. The skating was excellent, but to the disappointment of many the Newton High School was defeated by Cambridge Latin school team, 3-2. The Newton players were Messrs. Shepard, Walworth, Cobb, Jordan, and they made it very close work for their opponents.

Projectors of a new steam railroad from Newton Highlands to Boston have been in consultation this week with the city engineers of Boston regarding grade crossings. The proposed road will run from Newton Highlands via West Roxbury and Dorchester, connecting, if possible, with the New York & New England.

Recent Events

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs met on Monday morning in the Assembly Room of the Newtonville Library, with the president of the organization, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, in charge of the business meeting.

Reports of the various committees were given by the chairmen of the standing committees and from the associate organizations by their delegates. One of the most satisfactory of these was that of the committee on Health Seals, and reporting for her work, Miss Adelaide Ball said that the total receipts to date were $6742.65, a gain of $440 over the preceding year.

Although the federation is dependent on the dues from its clubs and associate organizations which compose the group, it was felt that a purchase of Defense Bonds should be made and it was voted to buy two of these. The same amount which was given to the Community Chest on the previous year, has again been voted.

The speaker of the morning was Mr. Harold Carver, who presented the work of the Newton Thrift Centre. He told of the drive for paper which was being held at present, and said that all such collections were turned over to workers of the Newton Thrift Centre. He asked for volunteer workers in the type of goods day work and urged the clubs take this over as one of their activities.

The president, in discussing the sale for the blind which will be held the last two days of April and the last day of May, asked for suggestions on the type of goods which they felt were most saleable, that she might pass these on to the committee at headquarters.

Notice was given of the School of Politics to be held on Monday, February ninth at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and special attention was called to the meeting of the federation the following week, when the Newtonville Woman's Club will be the hostess. This will be held in their club house on Tuesday, April 3.

Dessert coffee will be served at one-thirty, followed one hour later by a business meeting at which the president of the hostess club, Mrs. Raymond Green will reside first, and later will turn the meeting over to Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, president of the federation.

"Quilts and Quilt Lore" will be the subject of the afternoon, and the speaker, Miss Lenice Ingram Bacon, will be able to demonstrate the many types of old quilts by those which will be on exhibit by the members of the Preservation of Antiques Committee.

Old fashioned songs, in keeping with the program, will be sung by Mrs. Sylvia Pettys.

Rotary Club

The speaker for this week was the Rev. Abbott Vial of the Cowley Fathers, Church of St. John, Boston. Father Vial, who had recently returned from a six year stay in Japan, gave an interesting description of the common people of that country. He believes they are at heart a peaceful group who are dominated by the military clique for the past six hundred years.

The Cluie is made up of a very narrow minded group of men who have been schooled in nothing but the rule by force and have no conception of the economic rules of life.

Japan has been the leader in the industrialization of Asia and as only one sixth of the land is suitable for crops a good deal of the food has to be imported.

The Japs have not been good colonizers and history shows that in all their wars they have made the first attack without any formal declaration of war.

President Charlie Meeker complimented the Club on its attendance record.

NEWTON SMITH CLUB

To the open meeting of the Newton Smith College Club held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Cranshaw in West Newton members brought their husbands and other guests to hear Mrs. Chester S. Houghteling of West Newton perform the ceremony at Smith lecture on "Prospect of Victory" in the present world crisis.

Professor Kohn, who served with the Austrian Army in the first World War, was taken prisoner by the Russians and spent five years in Asiatic Russia. On his return to Austria in 1920 he lived in Paris, London and Jerusalem studying and writing about the problems of nationalism and the political and social development of the Near East.

In 1931 he came to this country, where he has been lecturing and writing ever since. During the past year Professor Kohn was appointed a Guggenheim Fellow to work on his History of Nationalism. Among his best known published works are "Force or Reason," "Revolutions and Dictatorships" and "Not By Arms Alone."

After an interesting period of questions from the audience following the lecture refreshments were served by Mrs. Edward W. Pridie, Mrs. Elliot F. Rogers, Mrs. Charles D. Brown and Mrs. Helen Lameyer.

O. HECKWITH HUNTING plays a memory game with the telephone. Guesses again if he gets the wrong party. Knows that when he mixes things up an operator will cut in and set him right. Part of her job, isn't it? She gets paid, doesn't she?
Well, then—!

Heckwith is hereby informed that telephone users make 117,544 calling errors every 24 hours in the New England area this company serves. It takes 21 seconds to correct
each error, on the average.
That's 2,468,424 seconds . . .
41,140 minutes . . . 685 hours
needlessly used up every day.
Enough operator-time and switchboard-time to serve an entire city the size of Man-

phone company faces a shortage of equipment due to priorities!
